Delegates of Powers Discussing Details Of Far East Plans

Japanese Representatives Expected to State Their Country's Views At Meeting of Committee of the Whole To-morrow.

Washington, Nov. 18.—With the armaments conference in adjournment, the various national groups further developed in consultations among themselves to-day the policies they will follow with respect to the Far Eastern questions and the limitation of naval armaments.

The British, following the lead of the French, let it be known that as a cardinal principle of their attitude toward the Far Eastern situation they stood ready to perpetuate the "open door" in China, give up extra-territorial rights there as soon as China's development will warrant, and in general aid the Chinese people to assume a place of economic influence in the world. It was fully expected that Italy, whose interest is more remote, would take much the same position.

The Japanese, having already declared their willingness to accept the Chinese declaration of principles "as a basis of discussion," were at work framing a more detailed statement of their position after communication with Tokio. There were indications that the extra-territorial phase of the situation would occupy a prominent place in such statements, with Japan taking the position that the powers cannot give up extra-territorial rights until the Chinese court system has been substantially expanded and reconstructed.

United States.

For the United States no one would speak authoritatively, officials only referring inquirers to the record of this Government's past attitude toward China. The particular way in which these general principles are to be applied to the present situation probably will remain unrevealed until the negotiations have gone much further, although it is taken for granted that maintenance of the "open door" will remain a basic consideration in any American plan of procedure.

To Meet To-morrow.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Committee sessions of the conference delegates stood at adjournment to-day to give opportunity for preparation by Japan's delegation of a general presentation of that country's views on China's proposal of principles for settlement of Far Eastern questions at a committee meeting of all the delegations to-morrow.

Meanwhile committees of the British delegation pushed their work today of formulating in detail their position on both the American armament proposals and the Chinese Far Eastern programme.

JAPANESE TREATY BEFORE CONFERENCE

British Empire Delegation Wishes Discussion

Announcement Made by British Spokesman

Washington, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—From a high British authority it was learned this morning that the members of the British Empire delegation are preparing for a complete airing of the question of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance before the Far Eastern committee of the conference on the limitation of armaments. Since the publication of China's statement of policy there has been much speculation as to whether the paragraph in this document relating to treaties was intended to raise the question of Britain's pact with Japan. All doubt on this point was dissipated this morning when the direct statement was made by this British spokesman that the alliance would undoubtedly come before the conference.

To Be Settled.

It was learned that Great Britain considers that the question, which incidentally is the question of paramount importance to Canada, is one that of necessity must be settled at the present international gathering. It is understood that it has been discussed informally a number of times in the family circle of the Empire contingent and has been one of the principal matters to come before the meetings of the special British Empire committee which are being held at frequent intervals whenever there are no sessions of the conference committee.

UNEMPLOYED IN BERLIN LOOTED FOOD STORES

Berlin, Nov. 18.—Food riots occurred Wednesday and Thursday in many parts of Berlin and the suburbs, large bodies of unemployed looting provision stores. In the Reichstag the Government has had to meet many criticisms for its failure to suppress profiteering, which has forced up the cost of living.

FULL CONFERENCE MEETING ON MONDAY IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Nov. 18.—The conference on limitation of armaments was called by Chairman Hughes to-day to meet at 11 a.m. next Monday for its third plenary session.

DIVORCE CASES LISTED FOR HEARING AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Since last session of Parliament, sixty-five notices of application for divorce at the first session of the 14th Parliament have been filed here. Last session the divorce committee of the Senate granted 110 divorces.

ORDER EXTENSION OF COWICHAN LAKE LINE OF THE C.N.R.

Orders to extend the Vancouver Island line of the Canadian National Railways ten miles in the Cowichan Lake district has been given by D. B. Hanna, President of the C. N. R., according to a telegram received by Premier Oliver from Mr. Hanna to-day. "Instructions have already been given to extend the Island line ten miles additional to a point which will fit in with the James Logging Company's operations (on Cowichan Lake)," Mr. Hanna's telegram said. Premier Oliver has been pressing for some time for the extension of the Cowichan Lake line.

HOUSE COLLAPSED AND EIGHT OF FAMILY LOST LIVES

Mena, Ark., Nov. 18.—Eight members of the family of R. K. Weems, of Wickes, Arkansas, twenty-six miles south of here, were killed last night when their home collapsed during a violent storm. Reports of the deaths reached here to-day when a call for eight coffins was received.

Details are lacking due to the fact that all wires to Wickes are down, but it is understood little damage was done except on the Weems farm.

WOMAN CANDIDATE

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—Mrs. John Dyck, the first woman in Manitoba to enter the Federal contest, was nominated in Centre Winnipeg.

Splendid Meeting For William M. Ivel Promises Success

POINTS FROM THE SPEECHES.

"Liberalism has always voted for the rights of the Constitution," Ian Mackenzie, M. P. P.

"This is a time when every true patriot should do his or her best to return a Liberal," William Marchant.

"Industries can be developed in this Province if we can get the use of our own money," William M. Ivel, Liberal Candidate.

"The Meighen Government will not be tried on the merits of the tariff but on its record during the past few years," Hon. Alexander Manson.

The Federal contest is not between Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Ivel, but it is to decide whether the weak policies of the Meighen Government are to be supported by the electors of Victoria or whether a change to the well-established principles of Liberalism is to lift the country out of its present stagnant condition, Henry C. Hall told a large and enthusiastic audience at the Pantages Theatre last night.

The occasion was the opening of the campaign in support of William M. Ivel, Liberal candidate for Victoria, and the large attendance and the enthusiasm which prevailed indicated a very favorable public opinion in the matter of the fortheoming election. Mr. Ivel was given a great reception, and he, with the other speakers supporting him, scored point after point against the present Federal Government. "Don't forget, a vote for Tolmie is a vote for Meighen," was the warning given. A good many people have confused the Liberal-Conservative organization with the Liberals and therefore emphasis was laid on the fact that Mr. Ivel is the only candidate in Victoria running on the straight Liberal ticket.

MORNING MEETING HELD IN WINNIPEG

Mackenzie King Spoke at Unusual Hour

People Need Real Representation, He Said

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—Hon. Mackenzie King addressed a morning meeting here to-day. There was a good attendance despite the unusual hour of 9.30, and the Liberal Leader, who was the only speaker, was given a good hearing.

Mr. King criticized Premier Meighen for retaining office after his mandate had expired.

"What's your platform?" asked a voice.

"To get away from that sort of thing (usurpation) and have a Government representative of the people of this country," Mr. King retorted. "The great struggle in this and other lands has been to secure free and representative government."

Autocratic.

Mr. King declared that instead of giving women the vote the Meighen Government had denied the vote to all except those from whom it expected support. He again laid charges of autocracy against Premier Meighen.

"Would you put a railwayman on the Railway Board if you got in there?" asked one man.

"We will," remarked Mr. King. "For two years we have tried to have a railwayman placed on the Canadian National board."

In Moose Jaw.

Moose Jaw, Nov. 18.—Hon. Mackenzie King addressing a meeting here, urged those who desired progress to support the Liberal Party. He said the tendency of those supporting the new class group was to bring about political isolation of the prairies.

The Liberal Leader declared that Premier Meighen's claim of "no pledge in 1917" showed the Prime Minister to have been a party to the "betrayal of this nation."

No Experimenting.

Mr. King voiced regret that he had been unable to make a more extend-

V.O.N. TO HOLD TAG IN CITY TO-MORROW

To Conclude Week's Campaign; Metropolitan Life Co.'s Testimonial

To-morrow the Victorian Order of Nurses will conclude their week's campaign with a tag day when an appeal will be made to the general public who have not taken out memberships in the Order. There is perhaps no other organization which contributes so much to the public welfare as the V. O. N. It has been for many years carrying on public health nursing and safeguarding the health of those to whom the ordinary medical and nursing fees are practically insuperable barriers to health.

A hint of the effectiveness of the Order's work as an agency for saving life, especially in maternity and child welfare cases, is shown in a letter from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, stating that "between 1911 and 1919 there was a reduction of 2.18 deaths per 1,000 in the company's experience directly attributable to the care given by the V. O. N. This applied to the 12,500,000 lives exposed in that period means a direct saving of 27,500 lives."

In Victoria alone last year the order paid 4,958 visits, of which 669 were without fee. Such a service deserves the heartiest support of every citizen.

JAPANESE CONSIDER PLANS FOR NAVIES

Dispatch Says Spirit of Caution Manifested

Tokio, Nov. 17.—After the first enthusiasm over the anticipated relief of armament burdens, a spirit of caution has developed in Japan, with the inclination to look for a possible advantage to the United States in its proposal for a ten-year holiday and limitation of navies. Expressions favoring a more equal balance of power have become the conspicuous public note concerning the scheme, with the probable disturbance of labor conditions as a secondary consideration.

The sacrifice of warships aggregating 450,000 tons by Japan would be equal to the scrapping of 1,500,000 tons by the United States, Japanese analysts declare, on the ground that in an emergency the United States could replace her lost tonnage within a third, or even a fifth of the time required by Japan.

It is pointed out that the American proposals would leave the United States with capital ships constructed between 1914 and 1916 while, with the exception of the Nagato, Japan's would all be of the period prior to 1913.

Sixty-Six Per Cent.

It is admitted that the Japanese navy would be superior to the American in speed through the elimination of cruisers, but the experts declare that in all else the plan would favor the United States. Some members of the admiralty are credited with expressing the belief that the Japanese fleet should aggregate sixty-six per cent. of the American total.

Naval writers, expressing the opinion that the United States will not take the position that its proposals are not subject to amendment, see a fair prospect for an amicable adjustment.

Fortifications.

Concessions by the United States in regard to Pacific fortifications as an offset to what is generally coming to be regarded as the unfair ratio of naval strength are suggested by Baron Toshiatsu Skamoto, an influential member of the House of Peers, in an article in The Asahi Shimbun.

He declares that the ratio should be twelve battleships for Japan to eighteen for the United States, instead of ten to eighteen. He says further that under the Hughes plan, with Japan retaining only one of the super-dreadnought type, the Nagato, against three of the United States, Japan's ratio would be reduced to approximately ten to twenty. A fairer balance, he argues, might be secured in a different direction, namely, fortification, which he says it is important to discuss together with the question of eliminating all naval bases which menace Japan.

Extravagance and total disregard of the people's wishes and of their welfare; actual cruelty in the case of returned men and their families and tyranny of the worst sort were some of the charges laid against the Meighen Government, supported by a review of the facts.

A twelve-piece orchestra organized by A. W. Staples, secretary of the Liberal Association furnished an excellent programme of music. In addition to the speakers there was a large number of Liberal supporters on the stage. President Harbord presided.

Ian Mackenzie, third member for Vancouver, spoke on the soldier phase of the political situation. Hon. Alexander Manson, speaker of House, dealt with the railway fiasco, William M. Ivel, the Liberal candidate gave a review of the platform, and William Marchant, veteran Liberal, spoke in a happy yet sarcastic vein of the Meighen protestations of consideration for the public welfare.

Mr. Hall.

Mr. Hall charged the Government severely on various counts of incompetency. Mention of the Liberals' intention to take steps to remedy the Oriental immigration questions was greeted with loud applause. The arguments advanced by the Meighen forces in regard to the tariff were examined critically by Mr. Hall.

Mr. Hall repeated the charges

FURTHER IRISH MOVE AWAITED

Atmosphere Improved by Vote of Unionists

London, Nov. 18.—The Irish peace situation is deemed in authoritative circles not to have been made actually worse by the Ulster Cabinet's determination to adhere to its previously declared position.

The overwhelming majority given in favor of the Government's policy at the Unionist Party conference in Liverpool yesterday is looked upon as creating a better atmosphere for continuance of the peace negotiations in some form, although the possibility of the resignation of Premier Lloyd George, or indeed the entire coalition Government, is not ignored. The morning newspapers, however, do not regard this contingency as either imminent or inevitable. There is some difference of opinion as to whether if an impasse is reached the Premier would resign or ask the country's verdict in a general election.

One-fourth.

Dublin, Nov. 18.—The Irish nation offers Northeast Ulster a local government commensurate with the particular needs of the district as well as a fair part in the national government, says The Irish Bulletin, in deal-

Government Wins Close Division on Game Board Probe

By two votes, the Government early this morning won the division in the Legislature on the investigation into R. H. Pooley's charges against Dr. A. R. Baker and the Game Conservation Board.

Attorney-General Farris spoke for two hours and one-half last night after the House met. He went into the details of Dr. Baker's conduct of the Game Board and the moving picture department, both of which Mr. Pooley attacked.

Mr. Pooley asked for a committee of the House to investigate Dr. Baker and his activities. Mr. Farris at the close of his speech asked the House not to vote against an investigation, but to have it made by a Royal Commission appointed by the Government under the Public Inquiries Act.

It was this that the Legislature voted on. The Farris amendment calling for the Royal Commission was carried by 22 to 20.

H. G. Perry, the Liberal member for Fort George, who early in the session launched the first attack on Dr. Baker, held to his stand last night and voted with Mr. Pooley and Mr. Bowser against the Government.

About midnight and before the vote was taken, Mr. Perry made another vigorous attack on Dr. Baker and his works.

The following voted in favor of Mr. Pooley's original resolution: Messrs. Pooley, Schofield, Esling, A. McDonald, Pearson, Catherwood, McRae, Bowser, Jones, W. A. McKenzie, Lister, Hinchliffe, Hunter, Hanes, Neelands, Guthrie, Duncan, Burde, Perry and Whiteside.

The following voted against the resolution and in favor of a royal commission: Messrs. Oliver, Farris, Sloan, King, Sutherland, Anderson, K. C. MacDonald, Yorston, Paterson, Ramsey, Henniger, Kergin, Ian Mackenzie, Pauline, Buckham, Hon. Mrs. Smith, Barrow, Hart, Pattullo, McLean, Clearihue and Menzies.

M. B. Jackson, K. C., Liberal member for The Islands, absented himself from voting because he did not think it right he should do so on a question which affected a department of which he is one of the directors. Mr. Jackson is a member of the Game Conservation Board.

OLIVER SAYS CITY IN "GLASS HOUSE"

Premier Rebukes Council for Recent Resolution

Thinks Council Should Attend to Own Business

"Sir,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 16th inst., enclosing copy of resolution adopted by your City Council.

"I observe the allegation that the financial embarrassment of many of the cities and municipalities is caused by the 'predatory manner' in which the Government has appropriated to itself taxation and revenues rightfully belonging to the municipal governments.

Should Be Specific.

"The above statement is general in its terms, and to be convincing should be specific. I would ask is the City of Victoria one of the cities referred to? What are the revenues and taxation referred to, and what is the amount of which your city claims to have been pedatorily deprived? Evidence in support of your allegation should be supplied.

"I note also the expression of opinion that the Provincial Government has not 'been practising economy to the same extent as the municipality for the last seven or eight years. Might I be permitted to enquire when and under what conditions the municipality of Victoria has practised economy? To my personal knowledge the City of Victoria has, on a number of occasions, requested the Government of the Province to increase its expenditure for the benefit of the City of Victoria, and I venture to think that your Council would have no objection, even to increased extravagance, provided that your municipality were benefited thereby.

In Glass Houses.

"I note also the 'astonishment and dismay' with which your Council views the apathy of individuals and semi-public organizations in respect to Provincial expenditures and suggested increases of taxation. I regret that I cannot accept this 'astonishment and dismay, which you express, at is 'face value, 'when I consider the financial condition of the City of Victoria and the causes which led to such conditions.

"There is an old saying that 'Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones.' There is also a saying that those who plead equity should come to court with clean hands, and in this respect let me commend to your consideration the report of the inspector of municipalities. In the interest of the city I refrain from publishing this report, but I think in view of the seriousness of its contents your Council may be more profitably occupied in administering the affairs of the city, for which purpose they were elected, and in respect to which they may reasonably be expected to be well informed, rather than attacking the Provincial administration on matters of which they are not so well informed."

EARNINGS OF G. T. R.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Grand Trunk Railway earnings for the week ended November 14 were $1,988,955, a decrease of $534,598 from the same week of 1920.

WORKING ON CLUE

That a house, near Heals, Saanich, was entered by persons unknown was reported to the police to-day by the owner, Mr. Alexander, of West Saanich. The house is a small cottage on the West Saanich road near Heals, and was left vacant between two and four o'clock yesterday afternoon. In the interim the house was broken into and food was taken. The thieves took meat, bread and some canned stores, as well as tobacco. The police are working on the report, in the belief that it may have been the work of the two fugitives from Wilkinson Road Mental Hospital, Lynn and Malone, believed to be still in that neighborhood.

No Work Being Done On Battlecruisers In Yards of Britain

Decision Means At Least No Money to Be Spent On Building of Ships While Washington Conference In Progress.

London, Nov. 18.—The Admiralty announced to-day that it had ordered cessation of all work on the four battlecruisers of the Hood type. The shipbuilding firms were notified yesterday not to incur any further liabilities on new naval construction until further notice from the Admiralty.

These contracts were awarded only two weeks ago.

Officials explained that the practical effect of the Admiralty's order would be the absolute cessation of all work on warships pending the outcome of the Washington conference.

Glasgow, Nov. 18.—It is officially stated that the contracts awarded the Clyde shipyards for the construction of three warships of the Hood type have been suspended. The steel works are also affected by the suspension.

ARMY REDUCTIONS TO BE DISCUSSED

Before Washington Conference Next Week

Briand Expected to Make Statement Tuesday

(By Lukin Johnston, Special Correspondent of The Times).

Washington, Nov. 18.—The United States led the way in putting "open diplomacy" into effect when Secretary Hughes sprang his "bombshell" speech at the opening of the limitation of armaments conference. China followed with her ten proposals for the settlement of Far Eastern problems. Then came Japan, not to be outdone, and issued through Baron Kato a categorical statement setting forth Japan's reservations anent the Hughes proposals. They were shown to one of the British delegation by a newspaper man last night and the delegate said that this was the first he had heard of them. They had not been mentioned in the naval committee of experts.

Japan argues that because of her geographical position she deems it only fair that the other interested countries should agree that she maintain a proportion of general tonnage greater than sixty per cent of that of Britain and America, and in types of vessels strictly for defensive purposes she considers herself entitled to an amount approximating that allotted the other five powers.

Everyone knew Japan had certain modifications to suggest. No one expected such a categorical statement, nor that it would be given to the world in such a manner. It has stirred up mud at the bottom of a stream which looked comparatively clear and has served to dampen the enthusiasm of the optimists.

New Ships.

It would appear than the Japanese are balking at what is now known as the "Five-Five-Three" standard to some extent at least because of their desire not to be forced to scrap their latest capital ship, the Mutsu, and two others which are well on the way to completion. Her argument might be applied equally by Great Britain is she cared to use them particularly with regard to Australia and New Zealand. It becomes increasingly apparent that while originally the Hughes proposals sounded fascinately simple, the technical details constitute the major part of the problem.

Impression Corrected.

Meanwhile the British delegates have been at some pains to remove the erroneous impression that they were officially in favor of allowing a shipbuilding programme of one capital ship each year during the naval holiday. It was stated by a high authority that this suggestion had not been officially considered by the British delegation, which is heartily in favor of the holiday. The only anxiety being with regard to the disposition of the useless shipyards and the highly trained personnel which they employ.

Any suggestion that the naval committee was employing dilatory methods in its work was entirely without warrant, said this delegate.

China.

China's action in voluntarily placing her views on the Far Eastern question before the committee of the whole brings her troubles prominently before the world. One well known American writer summarizes the proposals as follows:

First—Termination of the Anglo-Jananese alliance.

Second—No new alliance between Japan, Britain and the United States to take its place.

Third—Abrogation of the treaties between China and Japan arising out of the famous twenty-one demands.

Fourth—Withdrawal of Japan from Shantung.

Fifth—Affirmation of the open door principle.

(Concluded on page 17.)

Washington, Nov. 18.—Action of the British Government announced from London to-day in ordering work stopped on the four capital ships of the Hood type, the only capital ship building programme on which the British have been engaged since the armistice, came as no surprise here. There was much doubt, even before the conference on limitations of armaments was called by President Harding, that the British would complete these ships.

In Agreement.

In any case deliberations of the technical commission headed by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and including highest naval officers of the five powers represented in the conference appear to have reached a point where the capital ship ratio may be considered settled so far as the British and American fleets are concerned. The American proposal that Great Britain retain eighteen battleships and four battlecruisers and the United States eighteen battleships seems to have been accepted by the experts, which implies final acceptance of the conference itself of that element of programme.

Japan.

It is not clear, however, that the experts have as yet reached a conclusion as to Japan's fleet strength. Formal announcement yesterday by Admiral Baron Kato, heading the Japanese group, that Japan desired more than the sixty per cent ratio in general naval tonnage allowed for her under the American proposal was taken as meaning that this is the point now being debated by the five admirals of the sub-committee and their staffs.

It has been said that the Japanese desired a fleet ratio to British or American strength of seventy instead of sixty per cent.

Baron Kato did not disclose the actual figures, saying merely that he sought a "slight" increase in proportional strength.

JAPANESE FLEET NOT NOW SIXTY

It is pointed out that Japan does not now possess even the sixty per cent. ratio allowed under the American proposals.

If the concrete terms of the Japanese counter-proposal dealt only with her desire to retain the new super-dreadnought Mutsu, just commissioned, and if that figures out into a "slight" increase in general tonnage it is possible an adjustment could be reached by re-casting the list of specific ships laid down by Mr. Hughes as those to be retained by each power in the projected immediate reduction of existing forces. If the Japanese claim is for an actual higher ratio of naval power, however, and there is some indication that it is, the question will be more difficult of treatment.

American View.

There is no doubt that American naval experts regard the original proposal of sixty per cent for Japan as extremely liberal in view of Japan's place in the role of nations, viewed from her economic or other interests as compared with those of Great Britain or the United States.

As to Japan's desire for equal tonnage with eight other powers in a "purely defensive" type of ship, it is said, much would depend on what kind of ship it is she wishes to maintain under the modification.

VICTORIA CITY IN NO POSITION TO CRITICIZE OTHERS

Kenneth Duncan Analyzes Condition of Municipalities

More Aid For Schools, Less For University, He Says

The City of Victoria is in a worse position than any other municipality in the Province to launch attacks against the Provincial Government and to pass resolutions demanding the resignation of the Government, Kenneth Duncan, Independent member for Cowichan, told the Legislature yesterday afternoon in the budget debate.

"These strictures on the Government come with very bad grace from the City of Victoria," Mr. Duncan said. "Its gross bonded debt in 1920 was $18,165,571, or $454 per capita. It had increased to this amount from $7,841,726, or $217 in 1911.

"Besides Victoria is short $2,800,000 in its sinking funds, or 46 per cent. of the total sinking fund shortage of the municipalities of the Province. Their fixed charges are now $21 per capita.

"I don't think Victoria is in any position to criticize this Legislature or anyone else as far as extravagance is concerned."

Single Taxation.

Mr. Duncan said that Victoria had been following the theories of Henry George, with the result that the city had on its hands a great deal of reverted lands. He pointed out that Victoria had $71,896,278 of assessable property, but does not tax $25,788,000 of this. Between 1,300 and 1,400 pieces of property had reverted to the city through non-payment of taxes. Total tax arrears of Victoria he gave at $1,919,852.

Mr. Duncan dealt with the municipal situation at length. He pointed out that costs of general administration for the municipalities had increased from $561,074 in 1911 to $1,026,666 in 1920. The per capita debt of the municipalities had increased from $146 in 1911 to $227 in 1920.

Municipal Ownership.

Regarding the municipal operation of public utilities, Mr. Duncan said that of the 42 municipalities operating their own waterworks only ten were operating with a profit and thirty-two were operating at a loss. As for the twenty-one municipalities which owned and operated their own electric light plants, only eleven were operating at a profit and the rest at a loss.

"You see that most of our public utilities operated by municipalities are operating at a loss so that there is a direct charge on the taxpayers to make up for these arrears," said Mr. Duncan.

He went on to point out that the total tax arrears of all municipalities had increased from $895,614 in 1911 to $8,368,058 in 1920. Reverted lands now totalled $13,802,289, representing arrears of taxation amounting to $4,463,715.

"In many cases the accumulated taxes on these reverted lands are more than the assessed value of the property, which means that other property in the municipalities must be assessed to make up this deficit," Mr. Duncan went on.

Municipalities' Case.

Mr. Duncan said that municipalities had some ground for grievance against the Legislature as they to-day had only the same powers of taxation as they had in 1911, while on the other hand the Government had stepped in and taken additional taxes, such as the amusement and motor taxes, which should properly belong to the municipalities.

As for the personal property tax, Mr. Duncan said there was an element of fairness in it, as the municipalities were providing a large element of public service as protection for this class of property. Other taxes on real property were so great now, he said, that landlords were not now receiving a fair return on the money they have invested.

The Farmer's Case.

As for the personal property tax in rural districts, Mr. Duncan considered it inequitable, as it would bear chiefly on the machinery a farmer had and discourage him from buying more machinery. He pointed out that a farmer used his machinery only for a short time each year.

Mr. Duncan said he would like to see the maximum number of pupils to a teacher in rural schools reduced from 40 to 30. He said this charge would cost only $90,600 and would result in greater efficiency for rural schools and would give these pupils the chance for training and attention that they should have.

"To-day we are not justified in spending the money we are spending in maintaining the University of B. C.," Mr. Duncan went on. "It is beyond our means as a Province. We should first take care of education in the lower grades."

Mr. Duncan said that there should be an amendment to the Game Act so that farmers could kill birds as well as other game which were damaging their crops. He suggested that money derived from game licenses be used to compensate farmers for losses suffered by their crop from game.

The P. G. E.

Regarding the P. G. E., Mr. Duncan said:

"If it is possible for the Government to dispose of that line on any terms I think they should do it. If they are unable to do so, they should close it at present. No business will continue to operate year after year when losing money and there is no reason why we should not operate on that basis. It is bad business for us to do otherwise."

P. BYRNE DIED ON MAINLAND

New Westminster, Nov. 18.—Peter Byrne, Indian agent here since 1911, died suddenly yesterday. For some time he had not been in good health.

Peter Byrne was a well-known figure in the West. As Indian agent his duties took him pretty well all over the coast, and from 1906 to 1910 he was Reeve of Burnaby. He was one of the first board of councillors there, and was a prominent figure in the Knights of Columbus Lodge in this city.

He was born in Ireland in 1861 and came to Canada when seventeen. He joined the rush to Cariboo a few years later, and lived there two years before moving to the coast.

He is survived by six children.

CONSPIRACY LEADS TO HEAVY SENTENCES

Men in Wales Connected With Irish Scheme

London, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Severe sentences were passed yesterday on five prisoners who were convicted at Cardiff of hoarding arms and ammunition in connection with an Irish conspiracy.

Joseph Connelly, organizer of the South Wales branch of the Irish Self-Determination League, was sentenced to fourteen years' penal servitude and the two Evans, who were accused of breaking into a powder magazine at Merthyr, and another prisoner, were given seven years each. The fifth prisoner, Donohue, was given a four-year term.

ARMY FIGURES IN U. S. COMPARED

Set Off Against the People's Amusements and Luxuries

Washington, Nov. 18.—Federal tax returns have been given curious applications in connection with problems now before the conference on limitation of armaments. Statisticians for the Government have laboured hard to bring the relative figures as to military expenditures and the amounts spent by the people of the country for amusements and minor luxuries out so sharply that their significance would be seen at a glance.

One set of tables shows that against $418,000,000 spent for the army, the people expended $834,000,000 for soda and confections and $959,000,000 for perfumery, jewelry, silk stockings and other articles of personal adornment.

The smokers poured out $1,151,000,000 for tobacco in all forms. Baseball fans, theatregoers, cabaret frequenters and those attending concerts paid $897,000,000.

FAST CRAFT TO CHASE SMUGGLERS

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Seagoing launches capable of traveling thirty miles an hour and armed with one-pound rapid-firing guns, will be recommended to combat liquor smugglers from British Columbia.

Announcing that they had decided to recommend the immediate equipment of such boats, prohibition enforcement authorities and customs officials said ordinary coastguard vessels could not compete with the smugglers for speed. Crews of the fast boats would be instructed to stop or sink any suspected craft in the Sound.

MEXICAN REBELS PUT TO ROUT

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 18.—A party of Mexican rebels was put to route yesterday and four killed in a surprise attack about forty miles southeast of Tiajuana, according to announcement made last night by Governor Epigmence Ybarra of Lower California. Governor Ybarra said a large quantity of arms, ammunition and provisions was captured by the federal troops.

RAILWAY EARNINGS.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ended November 14 were $2,572,439, a decrease of $208,124 below the corresponding week last year. The earnings from January 10 to November 14 were $95,372,799, an increase of $3,263,143 over the corresponding period last year.

Montreal Nov. 18.—Canadian Pacific Railway earnings for week ended November 14 were $2,726,000, a decrease of $951,000.

ed tour of the prairies. Particularly would he have liked to have laid before the farmers his views on the problems of the day. Canada could not afford to experiment in matters of government. No part of Canada was so deeply interested in the outcome of this election as the West, Mr. King stated. It was regrettable that a class movement should have sprung up in the Western provinces. The Progressives had claimed Liberal principles, said Mr. King, and he had urged co-operation in attempting to secure these principles. The Liberal Leader asserted the record of the Liberal Party showed also its friendship for the farmers of the prairies.

Tariff Revision.

The speaker dealt with the tariff and declared his policy of downward revision would be best for all Canada. Dealing with taxation, Mr. King declared the farmers "were being badgered in regard to their payments," while some big companies like the Riordan Company got away by giving promissory notes. The Government had no right to discriminate. The people would never know how much Canada was losing until they had a "housecleaning."

Mr. King asserted the present great cost of government meant an added tax bill to every householder in Canada. Economy and retrenchment was most necessary.

Liberal Administration.

To-day Progressive candidates were being placed in the field to defeat Liberals. He deplored the Progressive tendency, which raised up enmity where there should be only friendship. The Liberal Leader warned his audience that coalition was not to be expected after the election. He predicted a majority over all for the Liberals and the return of a strong Liberal administration. Western Canada must have a full voice in the forming of the Government, but it could not secure this by defeating the Liberal candidates in the field.

Railways.

The Liberal Leader, dealing with railroad matters, charged the Meighen Government with ignoring Parliament and the people. The Meighen Government had given the very opposite of democratic government. He said it stood "as an autocratic body between the group of its friends, to whom management was entrusted, and the people, whose money was being spent." There could be no relief in railroad rates or anything else until the present combination in control was broken up.

Grand Trunk.

The Grand Trunk strike of 1910 is still of a certain interest here and Mr. King mentioned his part in the settlement of it. The Laurier Government had shut off a loan to the Grand Trunk because the railway president had refused to reinstate employees as promised. Mr. King said he had proposed an amendment to the Grand Trunk Railway bill to require fulfillment of the company's obligations and the Meighen supporters had voted it down. James Murdock, who represented the trainmen in that strike, was now a Liberal candidate, an expression of his confidence in Liberalism and its friendliness toward Labor, Mr. King declared.

Hon. W. E. Knowles, Liberal candidate, welcomed Mr. King as a democrat and a leader to whom Liberal principles could safely be entrusted.

Crerar Spoke.

Winnipeg, Nov. 17.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Leader of the Progressives, addressing a meeting here to-night, said Canada needed two things, a big constructive policy to develop her natural industries, and a government which would find a market for the goods the people produced.

Reciprocity he considered the only bit of real constructive legislation which the Laurier Government had attempted. There was no hostility to Canada in the United States and he believed that "if we went to the United States for a free trade agreement mutually beneficial, we would get it."

"Let us have a government with courage to change our fiscal policy," he said.

"Queer Birds."

The campaign of the Meighen Government in Manitoba was declared by Mr. Crerar to be directed solely against the United Grain Growers, with the object, he suspected, of putting that company out of business and damaging him personally. "That is the story," he went on, "of every speaker trailing the Prime Minister, and the Prime Minister has some queer birds in his trains."

Mr. Crerar wanted to know again where the "campaign funds" were coming from and he anounced if the Progressives were returned to power, legislation would be passed making imperative the publication by all parties of the sources of contribution to their expenses.

He asked Mr. Meighen to publish now the names of contributors to his funds.

Tariff.

Protection as a fiscal system stood condemned, declared Mr. Crerar, by its results. The financial condition of the country was grave and many people had not been made prosperous by protection. He submitted that the policy of the Progressives would develop the national wealth of the country and would tend to keep Canadians in Canada.

He believed the Progressives would come into power after December 6. He suggested that his audience should not be shocked to hear on the evening of election day that fifty Progressives had been elected in Ontario, where, he said, the new party was the Government's real opposition.

They had about fifteen candidates in the Maritime Provinces, and might have twenty by nomination day, declared Mr. Crerar.

Meighen Spoke.

Brandon, Nov. 17.—Premier Meighen, speaking here to-night, said he was charged with not having enough farmer representation in Parliament. He did not think blame should be attached to this or any other Government on such grounds, and he went on to insist that the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, was one of the best farmers in Canada. The only way to get farmers into Parliament and the Government, was for the people to send farmers of capacity to Ottawa.

West Kootenay.

Nelson, B.C., Nov. 18.—Dr. J. H. Hamilton, Liberal candidate in West Kootenay, has retired. This leaves a straight contest between Dr. W. O. Rose, National Liberal and Conservative, and L. W. Humphrey, Labor.

Speaking in Boissevain yesterday afternoon, Mr. Meighen reiterated his former statement that railway rates must come down, and emphasized the statement that the Government had no jurisdiction over the Railway Commission, but all indications were that rates would fall.

In closing, Mr. Meighen once more explained his policy for the establishment of a voluntary grain pool.

EVENT AT DUNCAN WAS A SUCCESS

Entertainment in Aid of Girl Guides' Club Room

Dupncan, Nov. 1.—The Duncan Opera House was filled to the doors Wednesday evening with a delighted audience who enjoyed the programme arranged by the Cowichan Chapter of the I. O. D. E. in aid of the Girl Guides' clubroom. H. J. Ruscombe Poole acted as chairman, and after the singing of the National Anthem by the audience, opened the programme with the song, "Down the Long Avenue." Mrs. Shepherd sang "O Flower of the World," and "Smile Through Your Tears." Drury Price, of Victoria, delighted his audience with his violin solos, which included:

Variationen ..... Tartini-Kreisler
Rondino, on a Theme of Beethoven ..... Kreisler
Sicilienne and Rigaudon ..... Francoeur-Kreisler
Moment Musical ..... Schubert-Kreisler
Praeludium und Allegro ..... Pugriani-Kreisler
Liebeslied ..... Kreisler
Menuett ..... Beethoven

Afterwards the charming and beautiful Japanese romance, "The Flower of Yeddo," was most artistically staged, with Miss Grace Stephens as manager. The stage decorations and fittings were an evidence of her exquisite taste and the parts were all very daintily and gracefully taken, as follows:

Henslowe "Sainara, Miss M. Wade; "Meesme," Miss S. Kennington, and "Taiphoon," Miss Geoghegan. The dances were taught by Miss Reid and the costumes were historically correct and very attractive. Miss Clark was accompanist.

Miss Denny, commissioner for the Guides, thanked the I. O. D. E. for their kindness in getting up this entertainment, which she explained would be the beginning of a fund to build a very much needed clubroom, the Girl Guides having increased to such an extent that available quarters were quite inadequate.

Mrs. F. Price, on request of the Cowichan Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, spoke of the pleasure and duty of her Chapter to do anything to help so patriotic a movement as the Girl Guides. She also took the public occasion to thank Mr. Scholey, manager of the Opera House, who had donated the house and light and had adveraised the entertainment on his screens; and also the members of Mrs. Martin's orchestra and Mr. Drury Pryce; all of whom gave their services for the Guides.

Supper was served by a committee under the direction of Mrs. Willett. Mrs. Garrard, Mrs. Swan, Miss Mutter were responsible for the very pretty decorations of the hall.

During his visit to Duncan Mr. Drury Pryce was entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willett. Mr. Willett is conductor of the Cowichan Amateur Orchestral Society

CALLS FOR LUMBER AT SIDNEY WHARF

Chilkoot Calls for Timber, Clams and Fruit for South

Sidney, Nov. 18.—The SS. Chilkoot, Capt. Findlay, of San Francisco, put into port Wednesday evening for the purpose of taking on a cargo of lumber consigned to San Francisco firms by the Sidney Mills, Ltd. The shipment consists of 200,000 feet of lumber and 200,000 feet of laths, and is a new departure for the Sidney Mills to load a ship at the dock, though in 1909 the Saanich Lumber Co. which then operated the mill, loaded several ships. The Sidney Trading Co. are also taking advantage of the fact that the SS. Chilkoot is in to forward by her to San Francisco a shipment of 400 cases of clams and fruit.

The Chilkoot has a tonnage of eight hundred, and on her upward trip was loaded with oil for Vancouver. The Sidney Mills, Ltd., expect this is only a beginning of this business, and as it opens up a new avenue of trade possibilities it is particularly welcome.

SIDNEY NEWS

Sidney, Nov. 18.—W. R. Robertson, of Duncan, who recently retired from the position of agent for the Cowichan Indian Agency, accompanied by his successor, A. H. Lomas, of Nanaimo, and T. O'Connell, Chief of the Indian Police of Vancouver Island, were in Sidney Tuesday on business connected with the department incidentally to introduce Mr. Lomas to this part of his territory.

GOVERNMENT WINS CLOSE DECISION ON GAME BOARD PROBE

The Attorney-General had prepared his case fully and dealt with the charges seriatim. He first said he thought a great deal of the information used by the opposition member had come through Chief Game Inspector Hird and former constable Dawson.

Mr. Pooley denied having had any communication with Hird. He said he didn't know him, and had never heard from him.

Hon. Mr. Farris: That makes little difference.

He then spoke about the trunk episode at Prince George, when Dawson had been said to have broken open a trunk suspecting that it contained furs. The Minister said the constable had acted unwisely in that case and the affair had been one of three reasons why he had been discharged from the service. He produced a letter written by Chief Constable McMyn, in which Dawson was said to have been found unsuited for the service and was fired.

Hon. Mr. Farris said he wanted it understood that Mr. McMynn had been responsible for this discharge, and that Dr. Baker had nothing to do with it.

He also mentioned that Dawson was supposed to have given permits illegally, but this charge was not true. There was also a personal affair at Williams' Lake, he added.

"Now who is Hird?" continued the Attorney-General.

"He won his present place through promotion, and was in the service during the days of the old Government."

Dealing with the staement of Mr. Pooley's that he had been "closeted" with Dr. Baker in Vancouver, Hon. Mr. Farris said he had been in conference with Dr. Baker and Mr. Hird, but that there was nothing particularly secret about the meeting. There was an official stenographer present and it was desired to get a complete copy of evidence bearing on certain rumors which had been going around while Dr. Baker was down East.

Hon. Mr. Farris produced and read from a copy of the evidence. He had taken up the matter of R. N. Campbell, of Harper's Camp, dealing in fur and using a Government stamp illegally.

The Minister said it was not true that Mr. Campbell was related to Dr. Baker. He was a highly respected citizen of the Cariboo, with two brothers in the fur business.

Has No Confirmation.

He digressed to explain that the Pooley charges were partly the result of the "whisperings" which had been going around the corridors, whisperings which "rolled across the Gulf from Vancouver, and which were false and insidious in the nature and intent. He said after investigating thoroughly he had informed the Premier and his colleagues that he could find nothing whatever to confirm anything that had been said about Dr. Baker.

He also referred to a letter written to himself by the chairman, a letter which showed that the official wished to withdraw from the position. He had only accepted it because of his interest in game protection. However, after the statements of H. G. Perry and others had come out, the doctor felt he could not retire under a cloud and had asked for a complete inquiry.

Two days before Mr. Perry had taken up the matter in the Legislature, the Minister explained, he had written Dr. Baker—in the very presence of the Fort George member—to the effect that no definite charges had been made against him and he, the Attorney-General, could see no reason for an enquiry.

Hon. Mr. Farris then referred to the statement of Mr. Pooley to the effect that he had said he "would go" if Dr. Baker went. Mr. Pooley had not cared to say the Attorney-General made such a statement, but had been content to say he had heard it whispered.

The Minister said he had taken the stand that there need be no investigation, because he could not find where definite charges had been made, and he did not wish to take any action that might injure a Government official or drag him into the limelight unnecessarily only to shield himself or profit in any way personally as the result of such an action. That always had been and always would be his stand, he declared, and applause followed from the Government benches.

Trade in Beaver.

He then turned to a consideration of the questions asked by G. S. Hanes regarding beaver. He charged that the North Vancouver member had been misleading in asking his questions and had become tangled up. He had sought to make capital out of dates which apparently conflicted, when as a matter of fact a careful reading of the questions and answers should provide information that a child could understand, he asserted.

Hon. Mr. Farris explained that Order-in-Council No. 1034 was passed on July 25 and made retroactive to June 22. This covered all the transactions complained of and the order was the result of representations made to the Attorney-General by Dr. Baker with regard to the better protection of beaver. It had been thought best by Dr. Baker, as chairman, to permit the Indians to kill a limited number of beaver for food, with the pelts becoming the property of the Government, who would pay a nominal, and fair price to the Indians for them.

It was later found, explained the Minister, that Jew fur-dealers and others were going around among the Indians and buying the skins for small sums, in some instances using "squirrel whisky" as bait. This had been the reason the beaver pelts were purchased by the Government, it being considered wise to checkmate the activities of the illicit fur-dealers.

Had Been to Bellingham.

Then the Minister took up the question of Dr. Baker "joy-riding in the United States" in Government cars, with his family. He had found upon enquiry that the new Government car, mentioned in this connection, had never been across the line since it was purchased, and as for Dr. Baker and his family joy-riding, the fact was that only once had a trip been made, and that was a year and a half ago to Bellingham to attend a "shoot."

The first car used by the doctor had been sent to the game warden at Nanaimo, and was still in use, it was explained.

As for Dr. Baker speeding in Government cars, Hon. Mr. Farris said that Dr. Baker had had an experience for which many members might sympathize with him—he had been caught driving too fast. (Laughter.) But the doctor was in a hired car at that time.

The Attorney-General said he thought the charges which had been made were too serious to have been mixed up with a lot of frivolity. As for the sending to Annacis Island of 500 pheasants to "supply Dr. Baker's special preserve," that was ridiculous, he went on. The doctor had only shot one solitary pheasant on that property, but he had shot ducks there on two occasions, and the young pheasants were placed there in the best interests of all hunters. The place was a sort of bird sanctuary.

At this juncture a "row" arose between Major Burde and the Attorney-General, in which half the members of the House joined and the Deputy-Speaker F. A. Pauline had to take a hand.

Premier Oliver appealed for a semblance of order and finally the major subsided.

Speaking about the charge that Dr. Baker had made wrongful use of public moneys, Hon. Mr. Farris said that the doctor had loaned a certain applicant for a position $20 out of his wn pocket. This was the "misuse" made of "public" moneys, he said.

Royalty Stamps.

He then discussed the charge of illicit use of Government royalty stamps used for marking furs. He explained that Mr. Campbell, of Harper's Camp, had been supplied with a stamp, Dr. Baker himself taking it there. The doctor thought upon his return that he had left the stamp in his car but he found that Mr. Campbell had secured it, according to previous arrangements.

Dr. Baker had met 20 or 25 trappers in that country and explained that dealers must pay a royalty. But Campbell was the only one who had to pay a royalty, since the others were trappers only. Campbell said he had lost $15,000 on the fur already purchased and was not in a position to pay royalty. He was given a permit to hold the fur and later shipped it out via Ashcroft and sold it.

"Was there anything wrong in that?" asked the Minister.

Controller-General Mouat sent Thomas Hood, of that department, into Harper's Camp to investigate the situation, continued Hon. Mr. Farris, and Mr. Hood had reported everything O. K. after a full investigation.

Beaver Pelts.

Mr. Farris read the letter from Dr. Baker telling of the beaver pelt situation and suggesting the policy that should be adopted. The Attorney-General said that the action that was taken should be considered in the light of conditions as they were at that time. He explained that the beaver skins affected where the skins of beavers killed before that time, and that the action was taken to prevent a condition that was a menace to the beaver life of the Province, because these skins would

IRONIZED YEAST BEST FOR "RUN-DOWN" PEOPLE

Take It in Convenient Tablet Form — Brings Better and Quicker Results than Common Baking Yeast.

Thousands of weak, nervous, pale and thin people are now taking yeast the new way!

Instead of eating ordinary baking yeast, which is so disagreeable to many, they are now taking it in pleasant tablet form, combined with organic or vegetable iron, which is necessary in order to get the best benefit from yeast.

This great combination of tonics is known as Ironized Yeast. Not only is it more convenient to take than common yeast, but it is far more effective, for in Ironized Yeast you get the benefit of two splendid health-builders, instead of only one. Furthermore, Ironized Yeast contains highly concentrated brewer's yeast, which is much richer in vitamines than ordinary baking yeast.

Lack of vitamines and iron in the system is keeping thousands of men, women and children in ill health. Ironized Yeast supplies your body with the proper amount of both of these all-important substances, and in doing so soon brings you the glowing health and rugged strength that is your birthright.

If you are run-down, weak, anaemic, nervous, or if you are suffering with loss of appetite, unsightly complexion or loss of vitality and energy, try Ironized Yeast. Usually it will show good results after the second or third day. Often it will clear up the worst complexions in less than two weeks.

Ironized Yeast is packed in patented sani-tape containers and will keep indefinitely. Costs no more per dose than common yeast—yet is far more effective. Each package contains 10 days' treatment and costs only a dollar—or just 10c a day. Special directions for children in each package. Sold at all good druggists.

Answers to Correspondents

TWENTY-FIVE.—I can quite understand that you are worried about your skin becoming so dry, because there is nothing that will kill a good complexion so quickly as the dry atmosphere of Canadian houses during the winter time. And, of course, continuous housework will ruin any hands unless you do something to prevent it. The best thing you can do is to rub CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM well into your face and on your hands after each washing, and especially every night and morning. CAMPANA'S is very efficacious and a very wonderful remedy. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Druggist, 60c a large bottle. MARGARET.

FREAK RESOLUTION.

The present City Council has passed more than one freak resolution to date, but yesterday it surpassed itself in its motion that the other municipalities of the Province join in a demand that the Government resign, apparently because it will not do what the Union of Municipalities wanted in readjusting the question of revenue.

This resolution attacks the Government because it proposes to spend $21,000,000 in the year 1922-23, without giving any consideration to the circumstances which lie behind the budget, and then urges that the Government be asked to resign because it will not give the municipalities more of the Provincial revenue. Obviously, if the demands of the Union of Municipalities had been fully complied with the Council would not have attacked the Provincial Budget no matter what it contained. So it is quite plain from the resolution that our City Fathers want the Government to resign, not because they think it is spending too much, but because it is not going to give them as much of the total as they think they ought to have.

The resolution thus is a monument of inconsistency. Moreover, as an instrument of utility it is about as effective as the resolution the Council passed some months ago in sympathy with the proposal to separate Vancouver Island from the Mainland in a political sense. The Government will pay no attention to it, but a good many people will manifest some curiosity as to when the City Council obtained from the electors of this community the authority to go into Provincial politics.

MR. IVEL'S CAMPAIGN.

Last night's audience at Pantages Theatre displayed an enthusiasm in national politics which should augur well for Mr. Ivel on the sixth of next month. The Liberal candidate, none the less those supporting him on the platform, did not commit the folly of which the Prime Minister and his lesser lights have been guilty throughout the country. Personalities find no favor with the general public and the character of Mr. Ivel's address and his grasp of real issues should indicate the course which every intelligent elector should take on election day. Those who attended the Meighen gathering on the previous evening were afforded an interesting contrast. Two imported speakers on that occasion very naturally found considerable difficulty in interesting a small and frigid audience in text book theories poorly supported by a lack of knowledge of Canadian affairs and Canadian needs. Mr. Ivel is to be congratulated upon his clear and business-like pronouncement and the obvious earnestness with which he has applied himself to the important issues at stake.

THIS COUNTS.

Not a hammer is being pounded upon any British warship today except upon those destined for the scrap heap. Contracts for three vessels of the Hood type already awarded to Clyde shipyards have been suspended by an order from the Admiralty. This is the information conveyed across the Atlantic this morning. If the conferees at Washington required any further proof of John Bull's desire for a limitation of armaments this decision of official Britain would seem to supply it in abundance.

THE RIGHT COURSE.

It is somewhat surprising to observe the Leader of the Opposition objecting to a Royal Commission in the case of the Chairman of the Game Conservation Board. Surely he has suffered a change of heart since he occupied the Premiership of this Province. Time was in British Columbia when there were so many Royal Commissions doing business that hotel accommodation in many parts of the Province became taxed to a considerable extent. Yet in last night's vote to decide whether a select committee of the House or the obviously fairer method should be employed we find Mr. Bowser preferring the course which was not at all popular with him in days gone by.

The Legislature is to be commended for deciding upon a Royal Commission to deal with charges of irregularities in the Game Department. Mr. Pooley has made a series of allegations and it is only right and proper in the public interest that they should be dealt with in an atmosphere that is not charged with the political heat of the legislative pile while a session is in progress. Nothing short of this would be fair to the "villain of the piece" who has announced himself as quite ready to meet his accusers before the proper tribunal. And although he would doubtless prefer to go on a fishing excursion with a select committee history records Mr. Bowser's predilections.

TO-MORROW'S TAG DAY.

While the work of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses needs no advertisement the people of Victoria are reminded by to-morrow's tag day that the modern Florence Nightingale must be provided with funds if she is to help those who are unable to help themselves. At an early hour to-morrow the jingle of the collecting box will be heard on the streets of the city and every response to the appeal will mean real help to a deserving cause and a message of hope to the sick and suffering. Victorians may be relied upon to live up to their reputation for generosity.

DUAL COLLECTION.

It should not be difficult for the Dominion Government to acquiesce in the suggestion of the Hon. John Hart and arrange for a conference to debate the advisability of ending the dual process of income tax collection in this Province. Not a small amount of trouble and difficulty would be avoided, and it is quite possible that both Federal and Provincial treasuries might benefit materially, were some system evolved whereby one or the other would undertake the collection of the dual impost. Under the present system confusion and expense is involved which might easily be avoided were Mr. Hart's plan adopted. The sooner the conference takes place the better.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Old Man Mars had better make the most of his opportunity while the Greeks and Turks are in a mood to patronize him. Every day brings him nearer to a long, long holiday.

It is not yet known whether a delegation of beavers will wait upon the Legislature while it is in session and present a formal protest against bringing the national emblem into disrepute.

Messrs. Ludendorff - Hearst-Shaw and Company, Very Limited, will be quite annoyed about the British Admiralty's decision to stop all work on the three "Hoods."

While the statement may not be regarded as authoritative it can be set down that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hapsburg are manifesting only a detached interest in the business now in hand at Washington.

The pan-German press and the Hearst newspapers do not like the Washington Conference. That is a very big argument in its favor. But is there anybody who cherishes his respectability who wants to ride with the pan-German and Hearst press?

Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Balfour, Viscount Grey, Mr. Barnes, Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge, Admiral Sir Percy Scott and about ninety-nine per cent. of the other leading men, not to speak of almost the entire press of Great Britain, no doubt would be fearfully nonplussed to learn that in the opinion of a contemporary they show themselves better friends of the United States than citizens of this Empire in saying amen to the proposals for the elimination of armament competition recently presented at Washington. The discovery of their treason should be communicated to them before they support any other wicked proposal calculated to lighten the forty-billion dollar load the British taxpayer is staggering under, or to make impossible a recurrence of the catastrophe which took so rich a toll from the flower of the world's manhood and all but destroyed civilization. In the light of the predicament in which the world is now floundering, with myriads of its people praying to high Heaven for a better order of things, the combination of stupidity and inhumanity which lies behind the few expressions of opposition to what the leading statesmen of the earth are trying to accomplish at Washington, is hard to fathom.

against the administration made by him at Tom Booth's meeting in Esquimalt last week. His references to these and his declaration that the Liberals would be elected to remedy these unjust and evil conditions were the signals for hearty approval from the audience.

Ian Mackenzie.

"Liberalism has always fought for supremacy of the rights of the constitution," declared Ian Mackenzie. "The people are tired of the tyranny of the last three years. In the Old Country ten days after the Armistice the Coalition government decided to test public opinion at the polls," he went on.

"In Canada the Meighen Government," he pointed out "has held office in defiance of the constitutional rights of the people. Canada with a national debt of three billions of dollars and the crime of the railway administration; returned men undergoing hunger and humiliation; the tragedy of the lonely settlers and many other discrepencies too numerous to mention make it impossible for the Meighen Government to ever expect a return to office. The people on December 6 will show their disapproval of the regime that for the past three years has disregarded in every possible way the rights of the people."

Mr. Mackenzie made a very spirited address which struck a responsive chord in the audience.

William Marchant.

"This is a time when every true patriot should do his or her best to return every Liberal," said Wm. Marchant.

"The question of tariff is not of moderate tariff but of immoderate tariff. The Liberals have never advocated free trade despite the Meighen misrepresentations to this effect. The farmers who once upheld the principle of high tariff now favor a reduction of tariff to the lowest reasonable point.

"Following the scheme of interchanging industrial trains between Canada and France to promote trade Mr. Meighen proposes to annul the effect by applying a prohibitive tariff," Mr. Marchant proceeded.

"The Liberals are no flag-wavers. This is a Conservative resort to get support, yet they have done absolutely nothing to protect the interests of the citizens of Canada."

"If it costs just as much to manufacture in the United States as it does in Canada, why should we fear competition with a reduced tariff?" asked the speaker.

"We sell coal in the hottest competition with the United States.

"The Canadian manufacturers should be taught a lession. When we listened for the news of war in the darkest days, the manufacturers combined with the profiteers and filled their pockets with gold.

"When men are prostituting their patriotism, is it not time for the people to say: 'Get you out?'

"There is no reason why Canadian industry and Canadian energy and enterprise cannot compete with the world," he proceeded.

"If Meighen and his followers ever reach the shining shore they will no doubt propose a tariff there."

The Candidate.

In introducing Mr. Ivel, President Harbord emphasized the fact that there was only one Liberal candidate in Victoria, and that was Mr. Ivel, who had the full support of the Liberal party here.

Some confusion had resulted from the adoption by the supporters of Hon. S. F. Tolmie of the title, "National Liberal and Conservative," said the candidate.

"Evidences everywhere throughout Canada point to the defeat of the Meighen Government," said Mr. Ivel.

"Industries could be developed in this Province if we could get the use of our own money," said Mr. Ivel, who claimed there was too much money going East and to the Orient.

Discrimination against industries was also noted in the case of inequitable freight rates which were favorable to Eastern manufacturers and made it impossible for industries in British Columbia to survive.

The Tariff Question.

"Revenue should be kept on the competitive basis and not protective," said the speaker in referring to the tariff. Tariff is a question that should be dealt with according to the requirements of the situation.

Loud applause greeted Mr. Ivel's statement that the Liberal Government was determined to remove the obstacles which stood in the way of investment and development of industries in British Columbia.

Some of the "flights of high finance" which had made the profiteers immensely rich at the cost of increased hardship on the people were referred to by Mr. Ivel.

In this connection he said: "Food and clothing reached prohibitive prices, and the Government not only permitted, but encouraged the creation of millionaires at the expense of the people."

Time did not permit of Mr. Ivel speaking to his entire platform, chief in which is the promise of a completed drydock and co-ordination of the national rail and steamship service to make profitable these national investments.

Hon. Alexander Manson.

"During the many years I have known Mr. Ivel I have learned to look upon him as a man fully capable of being entrusted with the direction of public affairs," said Mr. Speaker Manson, who severely criticized the Federal Government for applying the closure.

"An overdose of the tariff was what Meighen proposed, but it was to prove the death of the Government, instead of the patient," said Mr. Manson.

The terrific railway deficits, estimated at over a hundred million for 1921 and the squandering of huge sums of the people's money on railways was mentioned next.

"A story that would make Canadians blush," was the characterization given by Mr. Manson to the history of the Prince Rupert drydock, which he explained was only put into operation for shipbuilding after an American, Hon. Wm. C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, had remarked that it was a disgrace that such a splendidly equipped plant should be lying idle.

All pleas that it should be used during the war to help furnish the Allies with much-needed tonnage were ignored by the Ottawa authorities, said the speaker.

"The Meighen Government will not be tried on the merits of the tariff, but on its record during the past few years," declared Mr. Manson.

The speaker said that it was impossible to expect the National railways to pay when the administration continued its policy of useing them to hand out favors to friends and allowed the Canadian Pacific Railway to get away with all the business, doing nothing to see that the National lines were assured freight that rightfully belonged to it.

"The appointment of irresponsible public officials had brought Canada's public utilities to the verge of ruin," said Mr. Mansion.

"What Canada needs to-day is men with vision and the ability to govern honestly and well," said Mr. Manson.

An Enthusiastic Gathering.

The advent of the ladies into the field of politics was emphasized in the large number appearing on the platform and in the audience. The stage was attractively set out and decorated with huge bouquets of flowers.

George Guy, who possesses an excellent tenor voice, received a vociferous encore and the orchestral numbers were also greatly appreciated. Jack Smith acted as accompanist.

The evening's programme was carried out without a hitch. There were no interruptions and the audience was entirely sympathetic. The Liberal campaign management was greatly pleased with the results of the meeting and feel sure that public sentiment is entirely and solidly behind Mr. Ivel's candidature.

POLITICS

Canada's Zero Hour.
Uncle Sam Begins to Wonder.
Drury's Eyes on Ottawa?

Just about three years ago Canadian soldiers were advancing in the front rank of a victorious Allied army. There was no pause, no hesitation then. Canadian voters will be given their opportunity to go forward, to advance to better things on the sixth day of December, The Ottawa Citizen affirms. In this, the first election opportunity conceded to the people of Canada in civil life to live up to the standard set by the Canadian men as soldiers, it is inconceivable that the great national advance is to be thwarted by entrenched party politics, The Citizen believes. It is surely foreign to the nature of the Canadian people to be scared by old party propaganda, or deluded by opportunist politics into lagging behind when the obvious need throughout the country is forward action. The call goes out for an advance to break through the conditions of unemployment and alternating inflation of prices and depression of trade that seem to hold back industrious people from their heritage of economic freedom and justice.

The people of the United States turned out a low-tariff government last Fall and installed high-tariff one in the Spring. But the tariff had practically nothing to do with it. If the Republicans had been in power for eight years, had carried the country through a victorious war and negotiated a peace treaty they undoubtedly would have been swept out of the Capitol just as was Mr. Wilson's Democratic administration. The country simply wanted a change and got it.

But this change has involved a new tariff so high that Uncle Sam, tall as he is, can hardly see over the top of it. He is beginning to scratch his beard now and wonder whether he might not have saved some bricks and cement, The Toronto Globe assures us. The new American tariff has ludicrously failed to do the thing which it was specially designed to do—raise the prices of farm products, says the Globe. Prices have continued falling, and wheat is back to the pre-war level. The market for foodstuffs is in the grip of world forces which customs legislation cannot control or deflect. The United States farmers have simply been humbugged by the high protectionists, who have given them what they asked for in order to win their support for the new measure now before the Senate.

All-wise politicians are beginning to talk about Premier Drury, of Ontario, as the biggest dark horse of the Federal campaign. It is whispered that he is planning to jump from Toronto to Ottawa after December 6.

He has a provincial and a Federal eye, a writer in The Toronto Star explains. Each reacts on the other. This week he has shown the skill of a very old campaigner in helping his own Government while he helps Crerar. You never saw smoother team work in your life—the provincial and Federal Druries pulling on the same doubletree. Drury's line, taken with a bland familiarity with the mentality of the huge audiences that assemble from the countryside, is this:

Two years ago the Ontario election precipitated an unexpected experiment in government, by creating at administration of untried men.

Heralds of disaster there were, who prophesied that as there was something mysterious about the art and practice of government the job could not be mastered without the guidance of a few old stagers at the game. The ancient game was to evade as many troublesome questions as possible. His Government set out to change all that, and has had a good measure of success.

The time has come to see what can be done in like manner in the larger and more important Federal field. The chief experimenter is his friend Crerar, whom he has known thankfully for many years.

LETTERS

Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and legibly written. The longer an article the shorter the chance of insertion. ALBERNI INCORPORATION.

To the Editor:—In answer to the article published in the Victoria and Vancouver and Port Alberni papers, by the City Council of Alberni, with reference to the Alberni Board of Trade and its president and secretary. This article was taken up and dealt with at the regular monthly meeting of the Board held on the 8th, when the secretary was instructed to answer it in the public press.

In regard to the first paragraph, which states: "Whereas certain telegrams or communications have been dispatched to the Hon. John Oliver, Premier of the Province, signed by C. F. Bishop, president, and E. M. Whyte, secretary, and purporting to be on behalf of the Alberni Board of Trade," the Board passed the following resolution unanimously:

"That the Board in regular meeting do hereby endorse the actions of the president and secretary in sending the telegrams referred to, to Hon. John Oliver."

The second paragraph says:

"Be it resolved, that this Municipal Council of the City of Alberni, the sworn representatives of the ratepayers, and with full knowledge of the facts, declare as follows:

"1. That the Alberni Board of Trade is a minor organization, non-official, representing only a small portion of the resident population, a portion of which membership is not registered on the city's voters list."

In answer to this, the Alberni Board of Trade is not a minor organization, but an official body, and as such is affiliated with the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, and is duly recognized as an official public body, the constitution of which does not limit its membership to persons registered on Alberni city voters' lists or to any other city, but is open to membership to all householders or those following mercantile pursuits within the boundaries of the Alberni Mining District.

With reference to the second paragraph of section 1, "The Council are persuaded that the communications referred to do not, however, represent the opinion or wish of the Board of Trade as a body."

The Board at its regular meeting in endorsing the actions of the President, Secretary and the Executive, answer that very plainly.

Section 2: "Wherein they state the petition for disincorporation has been signed by over two-thirds of those qualified to sign, may be true, but a large number of those who did sign same now claim that they signed same under misrepresentation and have requested Premier Oliver to hold an investigation into the matter, before proceeding further with the question of disincorporation."

This was in the form of a petition sent to the Hon. the Premier, and which was signed by every business man in the City of Alberni who is a property owner there and endorsed by practically every member of the Board of Trade.

Secretary Alberni Board of Trade,

O. K.'S AND MOTES.

To the Editor,—Re the Trades and Labor Council's charge against Mr. Lockley as to his O. K. being necessary to the applicant for work on the drydock, it may be of interest to recall that during the wooden shipbuilding boom in this city it was incumbent on every applicant for work to secure an O. K. from the aforesaid Trades and Labor Council. I myself, on applying for work, was told to get an O. K. from these same persons who are now objecting. I found on investigating that the O. K. would cost me $30, and as I have never paid cash for the privilege of working I did without the O. K. and the job. Needless to say an O. K. from the Trades and Labor Council is not only valueless to-day but a detriment to the applicant seeking work; hence the amusing but wholly unfounded charge against Reeve Lockley, whom I have worked for in years gone by and found a just and conscientious employer.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

To the Editor:—A gentleman recently made statements to the effect that the City of Victoria had been made a laughing stock on account of the actions of two of its present police commissioners. I do not think that these men want to convert your city into a modern "Holy City," but we must at least admit that they have dealt in a decidedly straightforward manner while in their present office.

FAIRPLAY.
R. R. No. 1, Cobble Hill, B. C., Nov. 14, 1921.

PROTECTION VS. FREE TRADE.

To the Editor,—I am at a loss to know whether the signature to "Fair Trader's" second letter is a joke, or a misprint, or an infringement of copyright; but since he wishes me good luck in my aspirations for Free Trade within the Empire, it would be ungracious on my part to be too critical, either of his signature or of his somewhat bewildering epistle.

Out of consideration for your indulgent self, Mr. Editor, and for your readers, I forbear to follow "Fair Trader" along the alluring path of an argument about horse-breeding, horse-racing, "a race-course befitting Victoria," a woollen mill, a jam factory, "experencia docet," "verb sap," and the rest of it.

With aniline dyes, however, it is different. Aniline dyes are almost a sacred subject to many of our Protectionists. They are German dyes mostly, as "Fair Trader" says; and German dyes and German dolls (by the way, why does not "Fair Trader" mention the latter?) have been a source of comfort to many of the most valiant tariff-mongers in the Empire. I believe it is a fact that the British Government has made some kind of a favored position for the dyeing industry in England, but it is also true, as I happen to know, that many of the cotton manufacturers of Lancashire and the woollen manufacturers of Yorkshire are up in arms against that policy. They fear that it is an attempt to compel them to treat their fabrics with inferior dyes purchased at a higher price, and they realize that this will be a severe handicap to them when it comes to marketing their manufactured goods.

Here we see once more the old device of the protectionist—an attempt to establish an industry by allowing it to become a parasite upon other and bigger industries which can get along better without protection than with it. We know only too well that it is possible for a protectionist government to establish a parasitic industry in this way; and perhaps the parasite will grow and propagate its species; but industries so established will not add to the health, the wealth, or the strength of a country, and they will only make it more difficult for other industries which are at the base of the country's prosperity to be carried on.

It is no argument for "Fair Trader" to say that certain things had to be done to meet an emergency during the war. Millions of us who tried to do our duty in the war did many things which we are not doing today, and which we fervently hope we shall never be called upon to do again.

SAÁNICH REEVESHIP.

To the Editor, — In declining to allow my name to again go before the ratepayers of the municipality I feel that some explanation of my reasons and my views on the forthcoming election should be given, hence this letter.

At the conclusion of the last annual election I promised my supporters that as I had not a fair chance, not having been able to personally take the platform, I would again contest the reeveship this coming year. However, as my businsss and health will not permit me, and as I believe that the Council has developed what was then practically an unknown quality, I feel that I can ask my supporters to release me from my promise, and also ask them to support this year's Progressive candidate, Councillor Francis Simpson, of Ward Seven, who has by the firm, fearless, and honorable manner that he has adopted in the conduct of his councillorship, proves to the ratepayers his ability to fill the office of Reeve in a proper and fitting manner and bring to that office progressive ideas backed up with years of experience in public office in the East.

I am still of the opinion that the office of Reeve has not been conducted in an efficient manner by the present incumbent, who has at all times exhibited an arrogance that ill befits the office. He has, moreover, obitted to put into effect many of the major promises on which he was elected. It has been proven that the supposedly liquid surplus that was much mooted on the platform as a part of the work of the Reeve's first year was one of the book variety, and thus the ratepayers were misled into returning to office a man who they believed had by his efforts saved them several thousands of dollars.

I might here say, Mr. Editor, that Saanich has been saved not by the Reeve, but by the excellence of the work of Municipal Clerk Cowper, who has given his whole soul to the work. Even with his efforts it is estimated that Saanich is already $10,000 behind.

Progressiveness and a business administration are what Saanich needs. This will be obtained by supporting Councillor Simpson and the Progressive slate in the next election, and I ask all of my supporters to get out and work in his interests. Thanking you for the space.

WARD V. RATEPAYERS ASSOCIATION

To the Editor, — From the press report of the above Association it is observed that in mentioning the name of Councillor Vantright as being the only member of the Council to support my demand to have the typhoid carrier properly isolated and the dairy closed I have unwittingly done my other colleagues, Councillors Brooks, Ormond and McWilliam an injustice.

This was far from my intention, and I must in justice to these gentlemen admit that they have afforded me support repeatedly throughout the year on many matters, and whilst I always endeavor to reciprocate their support, yet I owe them this acknowledgment.

either be shipped out to Alberta where there was an open season or the furs would be left in caches and become of no use to society.

The Attorney-Geenral declared that there was no shadow of foundation for the inference that had been drawn from Mr. Pooley's charge that the order-in-council had been issued to "cover up" what Dr. Baker had been doing in issuing permits before. He explained that the policy embodied in the order-in-council had been decided on immediately after Dr. Baker had sent in his letter, and in June the department had advanced to Government Agent Mahony at Vancouver $5,000 with which to carry on this work.

"If there is any criticism it must be directed against myself," Mr. Farris went on, "because there was delay in drawing up that order. I left the city for a few days, and the matter was overlooked until the Comptroller-General pointed out to me that the order-in-council had not been passed. Then it was put through on July 25 to take effect from June 29. There is not the least foundation for the insinuation that this order-in-council had been put through to make legal what had been going on before that."

Dr. Baker gave permits in June to Korsch, Gescheit and Fitzpatrick, the Minister said, and it was claimed that because of this start there was opportunity for them to make profits over and above what other fur traders were making. He explained that it was not the first intention to give permits in the way that was adopted, but later it was decided that it would be a fairer policy to give other merchants a chance. He asked whether the advantage of time which had been given to Korsch and the others involved such a large financial consideration, explaining that the skins purchased by Korsch and turned into the Government numbered 400.

"How much did they get?" the Attorney-General went on. "They were allowed $10 a skin and out of that $4,000 they had to pay these men who were doing the buying and they had to pay the Indians for these skins. As they had to pay the Indians $5 each for these skins, the total amount they could make from these skins could by no possibility exceed $2,000 which included the costs. Surely there was not in that transaction the justification of insinuation that there was a criminal conspiracy to defraud the public, or that there was criminal collusion between these two men."

As for the asserfions that the policy resulted in green beaver skins being brought in, Mr. Farris said that not more than one or one and one-half per cent of the skins turned into the Government after the order-in-council were green.

Profit to Province.

He said that the permit system resulted in curtailing the illegal shipping of skins out of the Province and brought the skins into Vancouver. He explained that the Comptroller-General estimated that $25,000 net profit would ensue to the Province as the result of the purchase and sale of these beaver skins.

Mr. Farris said that the chairman of the Game Board was entitled to assume that the order-in-council had been passed after he left Victoria. He also declared that the margin of profit possible was by no means large enough to suggest impropriety in the deal.

Dealing with the shipping of furs from Burns Lake to Vancouver, Mr. Farris explained that Dr. Baker went to Alberta and there saw the chief game warden and made an arrangement with him to assist in stopping bootlegging which had been going on over the border, with the result that when furs went over the boundary from Burns Lake they were shipped to Vancouver, and there seized and confiscated by Dr. Baker and became the property of the Crown.

No Prosecutions.

Regarding the Pooley charges that Campbell Bros. at Harper's Camp were caught with furs, fined and that their fine was remitted and the furs given back to them, Mr. Farris declared that he had made investigations and found that no such transaction had taken place, that Campbells had not been prosecuted and that there had been no fine remitted.

In connection with the Gus Estrich charge, Mr. Farris explained that last April Constable Greenwood, of Quesnel, telegraphed that a seizure could be made. Dr. Baker as a result went to Quesnel, but found that there was nothing in the suggestion of the constable.

Taking up the charge of Dr. Baker selling moving pictures to Japan and the money not being accounted for, Mr. Farris said:

"Sometimes more damage can be done to a man by asking a question than by specific charges."

"A Mare's Nest.

Mr. Farris read correspondence of August, 1921, from Dr. Baker to Dr. Namura, of Vancouver, who was going to Japan and wanted films of British Columbia industries. This correspondence showed that the films, valued at $650, were loaned to this man for lecture work and were to be returned and that the films were still the property of the Government of British Columbia. In this connection Mr. Farris explained that the films were being used not to encourage immigration into this country from Japan, but to foster the use of British Columbia products in Japan.

Referring to he dismissal of Constable Dawson, which Mr. Pooley included in his charges, the Attorney-General, said that the suggestion had been created that Dawson had been dismissed in connection with the Jonas prosecution. He explained that Dawson had been relieved of his duties at the hands of the superintendent of Provincial Police, and that Dr. Baker was not even in the North Country at that time.

Mr. Farris said that an investigation would take considerable time as there would have to be equal opportunity given to those who made the charges and those who were implicated. He also pointed out that the activities cover a wide territory extending from Victoria to Quesnel, 150-Mile Post, the North Country and even Bella Coola. He said that if a committee of the House were to undertake this inquiry it would be very expensive to bring all these witnesses down and that the inquiry might easily last until after the work of the Legislature is over. If the House prorogued in the midst of the inquiry the committee would cease, and the inquiry would be stifled.

Royal Commission.

"If the members of this House wish to have this information gone into, the proper way is to do it by a Royal Commission under the Public Inquiries Act," Mr. Farris said.

The Attorney-General then moved, seconded by the Premier, that an inquiry be made under the Public Inquiries Act into the charges made by the member for Esquimalt.

Major Burde, independent member for Alberni, said that he was somewhat tired of the attempt made to get an investigation. He said that rumors around the House during the day had it that if the amendment were passed there would be a new Premier and Attorney-General in charge to-morrow. He asked the House to vote down both the amendment and Mr. Pooley's motion. He declared that there is a general opinion abroad that "the whole business is rotten and crooked," and that "within a couple of days there was going to be a big shake-up."

G. S. Hanes, independent member for North Vancouver, said that the amendment of the Attorney-General simply meant a delay in the investigation asked for by the Legislature.

"Why don't they grant this investigation and let the people of this Province see whether these charges are true or not, and get it over with," Mr. Hanes went on.

He said it would have been much better if the Attorney-General had offered no defence at all. He said the whole transaction looked very suspicious. He declared that Dawson had not been dismissed on proper grounds and asked if he had been dismissed for improper conduct as alleged, why it was that he had been employed since by the Government in another department?

Tom Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, said that the inquiry would cost thousands and thousands of dollars and that the Government would not be justified in having an inquiry in a matter of this kind when inquiries had been passed up on matters more important.

"Instead of spending money on a matter like this, I say fire the man and if you have any money to spend give it to the unemployed," Mr. Uphill added.

H. G. Perry, Liberal member for Fort George, said he hesitated about agreeing to the amendment, because witnesses might be hard to find under these conditions. In the meantime, he wanted to know what was going to happen to the official concerned. He feared that if he were left in charge not only might there be spiteful action on his part, but the offenders might be missing when needed. He declared himself in favor of the motion of Mr. Pooley.

Mr. Perry wanted to know why the suggestion was made on June 22 of allowing Indians to dispose of skins and why it was not followed instead of adopting "this iniquitous scheme of trading in beaver pelts."

He said that for nearly one month the Korsch people had control of the traffic in beaver pelts. He said he did not know how many pelts Korsch bought in this month "but I do know that the temptation would be very great to dispose of a great many other skins to other than the Government of B. C. as the price of beaver skins was $22.

"I do not think that you can produce a single Indian who received as much as $5 for a skin from these men," Mr. Perry went on. "I know of cases where they paid only $2 and $3.

"I say that we have $30,000 of disgrace in our coffers to-day because we have stolen it from these Indians."

Mr. Perry said that on October 20 he handed in his question as to whether Dawson was still in the employ of the Government. That question was not answered until October 31. "The very day I handed in my question was the very day Dawson received his dismissal as liquor vendor at Williams Lake," Mr. Perry went on.

Favors Pooley Resolution.

Mr. Perry then spoke of the dismissal of Dawson, his discharge being brought about through the action of Superintendent McMynn, he said.

He charged that considerable time had been given Korsch and Gesheit, and that they had a monopoly of buying beaver pelts for a full month.

Attorney-General Farris said that Korsch and Gesheit had only turned in 400 skins and that they had received $10 each for them. They had to pay the Indians $5 each, which meant a total paid out of $2,000 to the Indians and expenses and commissions to their agents. How could there have been much profit for these dealers? he asked.

Mr. Perry doubted if Korsch and Gesheit had turned in all the skins they bought to the Government. There must have been quite a temptation to them to sell elsewhere, especially when beaver were worth $22 each in the Edmonton and other markets.

He cut his remarks short after reviewing what had been said before by himself and other speakers, ending by declaring himself in favor of the Pooley resolution.

Mr. Bowser then told the House that a Royal Commission would get nowhere, since he and his supporters would refuse to have anything to do with it. He referred to many investigations in the past, claiming that they had been carried on by the Legislature, and remarked that the people of the Province were paying the members $2,000 each per year to look into just such things as the Pooley charges.

He said there was sufficient evidence before the House to warrant a complete investigation. He referred to the charges regarding the misuse of public films, one of which, the famous "Oyster Film," had been "emasculated," and used for political purposes.

Mr. Bowser said this film, along with others, had been taken by Cowboy Keen, who received $100 per month and so much a foot for the films purchased from him. There had been no sale of this particular picture until just before election, he said, and when the Attorney-General was sick in the hospital the film was displayed and Mr. Farris made suggestions for changes in the titles, "so as to get the best political effect."

If this was not the misuse of public moneys, Mr. Bowser would like to hear of something that was.

David Whiteside said he did not care to see the House waste five minutes on Dr. Baker, but since the thing had started there was only one way to proceed and that was through the appointment of a select committee.

Mr. Pooley and the Premier got into an argument, which caused the Esquimalt member to leave the chamber. He tried to talk on a point of order but the Government Leader would not give way, and in a few minutes Mr. Pooley walked out, to be followed by J. H. Schofield. Later the member for Esquimalt returned and informed the House that if his resolution were defeated his "brief" would be closed, and it would stay closed. He did not propose to give his time to such matters between sessions of the Legislature, when the members were already assembled and in a position to finish the matter once and for all.

Then the vote was taken, with the above-mentioned result. The same division, 22 to 20, was registered when the amendment was put. Then at 12.30 a. m. the House adjourned.

DO YOUR BOWELS MOVE REGULARLY, OR DO THEY BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt, at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mrs. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N. S., writes:—"For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

Miss Hilda Knight Charms Tea Patrons at David Spencer's

To enhance the attractiveness of the afternoon teas at the charming new dining-room of David Spencer's Ltd., the management has engaged Miss Hilda Knight, the well-known English contralto, to sing this week, her engagement terminating on Tuesday next. Miss Knight is the possessor of a delightful voice, of pleasing timbre and attractive quality and her singing has been received with enthusiasm by the many patrons at the tea-hour.

Out-of-town visitors frequenting the restaurant have expressed their admiration of the charming decorative scheme of the dining-room, which is said to vie in beauty of color and appointment with leading restaurants in California. A new feature added recently, that of attractive cushions of French striped cretonne tied to the Windsor chairs with heavy tasselled cords, has given the finishing touch to the artistic appointments, helping to make the dainty room one of the most attractive rendezvous in Victoria.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

JACK FROST ASKS THE FAIRIES TO HELP

Jack Frost knew it was time he was at his work, the leaves should have been colored a good week ago by his calendar, but try as he would he could not get far from his home, for the warm-hearted South Wind had listened to the pleadings of the flowers and kept the air warm.

Far too warm for Jack Frost to venture forth in his frosty suit, but he was a clever boy, bright and sparkling as you know, and so one night he did slip past warm-hearted South Wind while he was whispering sweet things to his garden sweethearts and down ran Jack Frost to the river.

But before he had tinted more than a dozen leaves along came South Wind and Jack fled for home in a hurry.

The next night Jack slipped past South Wind again, but instead of working, he looked about for the Fairies and asked their help.

The Fairies and Jack Frost were good friends, and while they would not do anything to harm the flowers they were willing to help Jack do his work if he would spare the garden.

This Jack promised to do. "You know that the Goblins expect a festival every year," he told the Fairies, "and that bothering South Wind has kept me back until there is scarcely a leaf colored.

"Now I can manage to get as far as the river every night while he is busy talking in the garden with the flowers, and if you will take the leaves I color and sail on them down stream so that Strong Wind when he comes along can scatter them, I can outwit South Wind by sending my cards out which will let everyone know I am not asleep and neglecting my work."

The Fairies saw no harm in this plan, so the next night by the river sat Jack Frost, making his brush fly as he tinted the leaves, and as fast as he finished one away sailed a little Fairy on it far down the stream.

Jack did a great deal of work that night, for he cleaned his brush on the bushes by the river and in the morning when the sun looked down there were all the bright colored leaves along the river bank nodding to the water.

All night long the Fairies sailed away on the tinted leaves, and when next morning early warm-hearted South Wind blew over the garden wall he was met by a whirl of leaves all red and brown and yellow that Strong Wind had picked up from the river and along its bank.

Quickly warm-hearted South Wind flew back to the garden. "Run," he called to the flowers; "Jack Frost has sent out his cards and now any night he may be here. Goodby until next year.

But Jack Frost kept his promise to the Fairies. He did not jump over the wall of the garden until every flower had gone to sleep for the Winter, and then he came one night and gently laid a frosted blanket over them to protect them until Old Winter came and covered them with his fluffy soft snow.

MAIN STREET

THE STORY OF CAROL KENNICOTT

By SINCLAIR LEWIS

Vida Sherwin came in after school, with Miss Ethel Villets, the town librarian. Miss Sherwin's optimistic presence gave Carol more confidence. She talked. She informed the circle, "I drove almost down to Wahkeenyan with Will, a few days ago. Isn't the country lovely! And I do admire the Scandinavian farmers down there so; their big red barns and silos and milking-machines and everything. Do you all know that lonely Lutheran church, with the tin-covered spire, that stands out alone on a hill? It's so bleak; somehow it seems so brave. I do think the Scandinavians are the hardiest and best people——"

"Oh, do you think so?" protested Mrs. Jackson Elder. "My husband says the Svenskas that work in the planing-mill are perfectly terrible-so silent and cranky, and so selfish, the way they keep demanding raises. If they had their way they'd simply ruin the business."

"Yes, and they're simply ghastly hired girls!" wailed Mrs. Dave Dyer. "I swear, I work myself to skin and bone trying to please my hired girl—when I can get them! I do everything in the world for them. They can have their gentlemen friends call on them in the kitchen any time, and they get just the same to eat as we do, if there's any left over, and I practically never jump on them."

Juanita Haydock rattled, "They're ungrateful, all that class of people. I do think the domestic problem is simply becoming awful. I don't know what the country's coming to, with these Scandahoofian clodhoppers demanding every cent you save, and so ignorant and impertinent, and on my word, demanding bath-tubs and everything—as if they weren't mighty good and lucky at home if they got a bath in the wash-tub."

They were off, riding hard. Carol thought of Bea and waylaid them:

"But isn't it possibly the fault of the mistresses if the maids are ungrateful? For generations we've given them the leavings of food, and holes to live in. I don't want to boast, but I must say I don't have much trouble with Bea. She's so friendly. The Scandinavians are sturdy and honest—"

Mrs. Dave Dyer snapped, "Honest? Do you call it honest to hold us up for every cent of pay they can get? I can't say that I've had any of them steal anything (though you might call it stealing to eat so much that a roast of beef hardly lasts three days, but just the same I don't intend to let them think they can put anything over on me! I always make them pack and unpack their trunks downstairs, right under my eyes, and then I know they aren't being tempted to dishonesty by any slackness on my part!"

"How much do the maids get here?" Carol ventured.

Mrs. B. J. Gougerling, wife of the banker, stated in a shocked maner, "Any place from three-fifty to five-fifty a week! I know positively that Mrs. Clark, after swearing that she wouldn't weaken and encourage them in their outrageous demands, went and paid five-fifty—think of it! practically a dollar a day for unskilled work and, of course, her food and room and a chance to do her own washing right in with the rest of the wash. How much do you pay, Mrs. Kennicott?"

"Yes! How much do you pay?" insisted half a dozen.

"W-why, I pay six a week," she feebly confessed.

They gasped. Juanita protested, "Don't you think it's hard on the rest of us when you pay so much?" Juanita's demand was re-inforced by the universal glower.

Carol was angry. "I don't care! A maid has one of the hardest jobs on earth. She works from ten to eighteen hours a day. She had to wash slimy dishes and dirty clothes. She tends the children and runs to the door with wet chapped hands and——"

Mrs. Dave Dyer broke into Carol's peroration with a furious, "That's all very well, but believe me, I do those things myself when I'm without a maid—and that's a good share of the time for a person that isn't willing to yield and pay exorbitant wages!"

Carol was retorting, "But a maid does it for strangers, and all she gets out of it is the pay——"

Their eyes were hostile. Four of them were talking at once. Vida Sherwin's dictatorial voice cut through took control of the revolution:

"Tut, tut, tut, tut! What angry passions—and what an idiotic discussion! All of you getting too serious. Stop it! Carol Kennicott, you're probably right, but you're too much ahead of the times. Juanita, quit looking so belligerent. What is this a card party or a hen fight? Carol, you stop admiring yourself as the Joan of Arc of the hired girls, or I'll spank. You come over here and talk libraries with Ethel Villets. Booooo! If there's any more pecking, I'll take charge of the hen roost myself!"

They all laughed artifically, and Carol obediently "talked libraries."

A small-town bungalow, the wives of a village doctor and a village dry-goods merchant, a provincial teacher, a colloquial brawl over paying a servant a dollar more a week. Yet this insignificance echoed cellar-plots and cabinet meetings and labor conferences in Persia and Prussia, Rome and Boston, and the orators who deemed themselves international leaders were but the raised voices of a billion Juanitas denouncing a million Carols, with a hundred thousand Vida Sherwins trying to shoo away the storm.

Carol felt guilty. She devoted herself to admiring the spinsterish Miss Villets and immediately committed another offense against the laws of decency.

"We haven't seen you at the library yet," Miss Villets reproved.

"I've wanted to run in so much but I've been getting settled and—— I'll probably come in so often you'll get tired of me! I hear you have such a nice library."

"There are many who like it. We have two thousand more books than Wakamin."

"Isn't that fine. I'm sure you are largely responsible. I've had some experience, in St. Paul."

"So I have been informed. Not that I entirely approve of library methods in these large cities. So careless, letting tramps and all sorts of dirty persons practically sleep in the reading-rooms."

"I know, but the poor souls—— Well, I'm sure you will agree with me in one thing: The chief task of a librarian is to get people to read."

"You feel so? My feeling, Mrs. Kennicott, and I am merely quoting the librarian of a very large college, is that the first duty of the conscientious librarian is to preserve the books."

"Oh!" Carol repented "Oh." Miss Villets stiffened and attacked:

"It may be all very well in cities, where they have unlimited funds, to let nasty children ruin books and just deliberately tear them up, and fresh young men take more books out than they are entitled to by the regulations, but I'm never going to permit it in this library!"

"What if some children are destructive? They learn to read. Books are cheaper than minds."

"Nothing is cheaper than the minds of some of these children that come in and bother me simply because their mothers don't keep them home where they belong. Some librarians may choose to be so wishy-washy and turn their libraries into nursing-homes and kindergartens, but as long as I'm in charge, the Gopher Prairie library is going to be quiet and decent, and the books well kept!"

Carol saw that the others were listening, waiting for her to be objectionable. She flinched before their dislike. She hastened to smile in agreement with Miss Villets, to glance publicly at her wrist-watch, to warble that it was "so late—have to hurry home—husband—such nice party—maybe you were right about maids, prejudiced because Bea so nice—such perfectly divine angel's-food, Mrs. Haydock must give me the recipe—good-by, such happy party—"

She walked home. She reflected. "It was my fault. I was touchy. And I opposed them so much. Only —— I can't! I can't be one of them if I must damn all the maids toiling in filthy kitchens, all the ragged hungry children. And these women are to be my arbiters, the rest of my life!"

She ignored Bea's call from the kitchen; she ran up-stairs to the unfrequented guest-room; she wept in terror, her body a pale arc as she knelt beside a cumbrous black-walnut bed, beside a puffy mattress covered with a red quilt, in a shuttered and airless room.

LIQUOR DILUTION INTERESTS POOLEY

Esquimalt Member Wants to Know About Men Who Do It

Conditions surrounding the importation of rum, whiskey and gin by the barrel lots for the Liquor Control Board, the breaking down of such liquors and whether employes of the Liquor Board have been diluting these liquors in their own interests are being inquired into by R. H Pooley, member for Esquimalt.

Mr. Pooley is putting these questions to Attorney-General Farris:

1. Does the Government through the Liquor Board import any whisky, rum or gin in barrels?
2. If yes, how much has been imported in each case?
3. Has all this liquor been sold at the same strength as that in which it was received here?
4. If any quantity has been broken down or reduced in strength, how much in each case?
5. Who is in charge of this work?
7. Are the employees who attend to this breaking-down process (if any) under bonds? If yes, what bonds?
8. Who checks up their work?
9. Have any employees been found or suspected of breaking down any of said liquor for their own use?

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST LAWYER

Made Insinuations Against Member's Stand on Bill

Apology to House Through Speaker Called For

A verbal attack in the corridors of the Legislature on R. H. Pooley, member for Esquimalt, by one of the Vancouver city lawyers engaged here in getting the Vancouver Incorporation Act put through, resulted in the incident being brought before the House at its opening yesterday afternoon and a demand made that the Vancouver counsel apologize.

Mr. Pooley himself brought the matter to the attention of the Speaker and the House, telling how after the House rose Wednesday afternoon, this Vancouver lawyer went out in the corridors and in a loud voice asked "what Pooley had to do in attacking" the Vancouver Bill and then said that "he is in the pay of the B. C. Electric."

This happened, it was explained, after the House had been all afternoon on the Vancouver bill and Mr. Pooley had spoken on some of the transportation clauses.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, that is a very serious statement for anyone to make about anyone in this House," Mr. Pooley went on.

"I am not in the pay of the B. C. Electric. On the other hand in our firm we have been most antagonistic to the B. C. Electric in much of the litigation we have had. I resent any such remarks."

Mr. Pooley said that if he did what he had the right to do he might have this "gentleman connected in a professional way with putting through the Vancouver bill" removed from the corridors of the House and call in the card signed by the Speaker granting him certain privileges around the Legislature because of the work he was engaged on.

"But I will not go that far because by so doing I might jeopardize the cause of Vancouver in their private bill," Mr. Pooley went on.

He said that this man owed a written apology not only to himself but to the House through the Speaker for the remarks he had made in the corridor.

Mr. Pooley declared that as far as his attitude towards the Vancouver bill was concerned, he considered it a "very badly drafted document" and that "there was considerable toning down to be done in connection with it."

To give the man a chance to make his apology, Mr. Pooley said he would withhold his name for the present.

"It is regrettable that anyone to whom has been extended the courtesies of the House should have made any such remark," said Speaker Manson.

Mr. Pooley later said that it was not E. F. Jones, corporation counsel of Vancouver to whom he referred, but another "professional gentleman."

PERSONAL PROPERTY WILL NOT SOLVE CIVIC TROUBLES

Thomas Pearson Urges Retrenchment Instead

"The personal property tax is not going to fill the bill and will not serve the municipalities in the way it is supposed it will," said Thomas Pearson, Conservative member for Richmond, in the budget debate in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Pearson said that he had hoped that the first move of the Government would have been to retrench and to forget the word "tax" for a while.

As for the effect of the personal property tax on merchants, he pointed out that the value of their stocks has been depreciating and now if they are taxed it only means creating a further loss for them and putting on a load that the average business will not stand.

Too Much Travelling.

Taking up Government expenditures, Mr. Pearson declared that one of the striking items was that for travelling expenses, which amount to $444,895.

"I can hardly believe that I am right in these figures, they are so large," he went on. "It is awful. It occurs to me that half the employees and officials of the Government must be on the road every day in the year."

Mr. Pearson deprecated the extravagance of school boards, and asked full autonomy for South Vancouver instead of retaining the new commissioner and leaving the power of veto on his hands.

"Show the people of South Vancouver you have confidence in them, Mr. Premier," he said.

SUMAS WORK SPEEDED UP

There was more dirt handled on the Sumas Reclamation work during July, August and September this year than in the entire fourteen months preceding.

The figures were 316,662 cubic yards for the latter period and 590,300 for the three months mentioned this year.

This makes a total of 906,962 cubic yards handled altogether; so states a report tabled in the Legislature last night by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture.

The work has cost, up to October 1, 1921, $385,563. Before the contract with the Marsh-Bourne Construction Company was signed and up to March 31 last, the sum of $120,868 was expended.

The Minister declared himself highly pleased with the progress of the work and stated that next Summer the waters of the Fraser River, during the flood period, will be barred out of the great Sumas basin. It may not be possible to proceed with the work of draining the lake and reclaiming the lake lands, but at least it will be possible to protect the marginal lands, some 20,000 acres in extent.

NOMINATE 27 FOR GOVERNING BODY

Amalgamated Veterans' Association Makes Progress

A meeting of the new amalgamated body known as the Amalgamated Veterans' Association, which was attended by over 500 members, took place last evening in Trades Hall, Broad Street, P. C. Rawling presiding as chairman.

After the chairman had outlined the business proposed to be carried on at the meeting, R. Macnicol, the chairman of the Provisional Committee, gave his report of the committee's work since the meeting on November 4, and announced that over 550 members had been enrolled in the new body during the last twelve days, and that there was prospects of this number reaching 1,000 in the near future. He also reported that the G.W.V.A. local had agreed to go out of existence within one month, and that the G.W.V.A. Naval Branch had come over to the amalgamated body en block. In the case of the G.A.U.V. and A. & N. Vets, he expected that their Dominion Commands would meet with the Canadian Legion on or about December 12, to agree upon a Dominion Amalgamated Charter. This only left the Veterans of France Association in Victoria outside of the amalgamated movement, and it was hoped that the Veterans of France Association would fulfil their past pledges and come into this new amalgamated body at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Twigg's Report.

Comrade H. D. Twigg gave an excellent report on the amalgamation in the eastern provinces of Canada, and stated that in his opinion nothing could now prevent Dominion-wide amalgamation. He quoted extracts from the conference and stated that the Army and Navy Dominion Command was solid for amalgamation and that the G.A.U.V. had gone on record in the east as willing to amalgamate with a non-sectarian and non-partisan body. Comrade Twigg also outlined the work of the Canadian Legion, of which he spoke most highly and commended their efforts to amalgamate the ex-service men in Canada. He stated that he would represent the A. and N. Dominion Command at Winnipeg within the next month at a conference of G.A.U.V., A. and N. Vets, Imperial Vets, and Canadian Legion, with a view to taking out a Dominion Amalgamated Charter. He stated that the G.W.V.A. might attend this conference, but if that body would not amalgamate then the others would proceed, and leave them out of the amalgamated charter.

Canon Hinchliffe, M. P. P., addressed the meeting for a few minutes and commended the excellent way in which the new body had been created.

Comrade H. D. Twigg was authorized to represent the Amalgamated Veterans Association at Winnipeg, and to also include the association in any amalgamated charter which may be agreed upon.

On Pension Question.

It as announced that Col. Margieson, Pension Commissioner, Ottawa, would address a meeting of ex-service men and their dependents at Trades Hall, Broad Street, on Saturday evening, November 19, at 8 p.m., under the auspices of the Amalgamated Veterans' Association. The meeting to be open to all ex-service men and their dependents who may be interested in the question of pensions and government insurance.

Nominations.

The nomination of an executive council was then proceeded with, two from the naval section and eight from the general section of the amalgamated body.

Nominations to fill the eight vacancies were made in the following order:

Robt. Macnicol, H. D. Twigg, Gus Lyons, R. P. Mathieson, C. K. Christian, T. A. Darke, W. N. Winsby, H. W. Hart, J. H. Gillespie, E. A. Kidner, C. L. Flick, F. A. Robertson, W. C. YARROWS CARRY OUT PROMISE OF LOW BID FOR WORK

Saanich Waterworks Material Attracts Many Tenderers

Yarrows Limited surprised the Saanich Council last night by the trenchant bid submitted for the fabrication of the 1,118 tons of watermain and other materials required for the extension of the Saanich waterworks, their offer of $77,703 for the whole undertaking being at first glance the lowest, and certainly undercutting all other offers for the ordinary grade of main.

Eighteen bids awaited the attention of the Council, and a number of representatives of contractors visited Royal Oak last night to witness the opening. Owing to fear that discussion of details would occupy the whole evening, the Council deferred the examination until after midnight, the bidders' representatives not remaining.

After noting that three tenders were not eligible because of irregularity regarding the certified cheque deposit requirement, the Council referred the remaining fifteen bids to Clerk Cowper for tabulation, as the apparent figures are in some cases modified by the larger number of feet of piping comprised in each ton. Time of delivery and other details are also pertinent matters, and will be brought to the fore in the classification, which will be examined at a special session of the Council called for Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Interesting Variations.

Interesting points in the tenders were, high bid for 1,118 tons of standard piping, $86.65 per ton average, by the Dominion Commercial Co., low bid for same grade, $60 by Yarrows, Limited. Lowest bid on a basis of feet of pipe required, $54,000 for 901 tons by the American Cast Iron Pipe Co.

In this latter bid it is pointed out that the pipe is in 16-foot lengths, which saves Saanich a large sum in laying and caulking costs, the weight per unit being about the same as the shorter and thicker standard pipe. It is claimed by engineers that the strength of cast iron is in the inner and outer skins, thickness beyond a certain point being unnecessary in high-grade pipe, though advisable with some types of iron.

In addition to the piping required, there are a number of special castings required, and also hydrants and valves. From a first inspection it appears as though all this work is assured to local firms, Yarrows, Limited, Ransays and the Victoria Machinery Depot entering a close race for these requirements.

From their first inspection, the Councillors are convinced that the extension of the waterworks to Gordon Head will be completed within the $100,000 provided, and it is believed that there will be an even better showing than the ratepayers were promised when the by-law was placed before them.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold however slight. If you do it can have but one result; it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, roots and barks promptly eradicates the bad effects, and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Ardoise, N. S., writes:—"About a year ago I contracted a cold accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor, but what he prescribed did me so little good I began to get discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him right away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found I was getting relief, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I resolved to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and cough were gone. I would not be without 'Dr. Wood's' for any money."

Price, 35c. and 60c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (Advt.)

THIEPVAL SEIZED LIQUOR RUNNER IN NORTHERN WATERS

Prince Rupert, Nov. 18.—After a chase of six miles during which seven shots were fired at the fleeing motor vessel Sylph, of Ketchikan, that vessel with 100 cases of liquor aboard, was seized Tuesday night by the Canadian Government steamer Thiepval, Captain Adlem.

The Sylph was in Brudage Inlet, Dundas Island, when she was first sighted. First Officer Alcock, of the Thiepval, made a landing and attempted single-handed to take possession of the vessel, but the Sylph dashed for the harbor entrance, heedless of the Thiepval, which was swung across the channel. Signals on the Government steamer were ignored. The chase then commenced, Captain Dellers was in command of the Sylph. The liquor has been placed in a bonded warehouse here.

William Houston, for the past thirty years associated with the marine engineering and shipbuilding industry of Victoria, passed away at his residence at 340 Bay Street, at 4 o'clock this morning at the age of sixty-two years. In the death of Mr. Houston another of the city's pioneers has passed to his long rest.

During his active career William Houston was identified with the development of the Victoria Machinery Depot, Ltd., being, up to a few years ago, superintendent of the Bay Street Marine Engineering Works, and up to the time of his death, a director of the concern.

Born in Scotland.

He was born at Dunfermline, Scotland, in 1859, and for the past thirty years has been business associate of C. J. V. Spratt, and his father, and also of A. J. Bechtel. The late Mr. Houston is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jemina Houston, who resides here, and a brother and sister in Scotland.

MONTEAGLE DUE ON TUESDAY AT NOON

O.S.K. Liner Arizona Maru Expected to Make Port the Same Day

Heading for this coast from the Orient, the Canadian Pacific steamship Monteagle, Capt. A. J. Hosken, R. N. R., is in touch by radio, and reported to-day that she would reach quarantine by Tuesday at noon.

The Monteagle was delayed in loading cargo at Oriental ports and was three days late in clearing from Yokohama. According to word brought by S. Kolokolnikoff, a Russian passenger arriving by the liner Silver State, an unofficial delegation from the Far Eastern Republican Government at Vladivostok to the Washington disarmament conference, is aboard the liner Monteagle. The delegation is said to be headed by Professor Gudkoff.

The inbound Canadian Pacific liner has a fair list of cabin passengers and the usual contingent of Chinese in the steerage. Her cargo includes 970 tons of raw silk which will be sent overland by special train over the C. P. R. from Vancouver.

Another Oriental liner due here on Tuesday is the Osaka Shosen Kaisha steamship Arizona Maru, carrying passengers and general cargo.

VICTORIA MAY HAVE COLD SNAP; FROSTS GRIP THE INTERIOR

Victoria may be in for a spell of real cold weather accompanied by snow. Snow commenced to fall here at 2 o'clock. The city is being swept by a cold snap which has in its grip all the interior of British Columbia, where thermometers are below zero, and the northern coast line, according to reports received to-day by F. Napier Denison, Superintendent of Gonzales Meterological Observatory. This cold spell is spreading to the Prairies, but so far has not penetrated further south than Victoria. It is raining in Seattle and further down the Coast.

"It is quite likely we shall have some real cold weather now possibly with snow, but it is too early to make any prophesies," said Mr. Denison. "It all depends how the cold snap spreads."

P. G. E. CONSTRUCTION COST

After Premier Oliver said that he would not oppose it, the motion of W. K. Esling, Conservative member for Rossland, calling for the publication of all contracts between the Government and the Northern Construction Co. for work on the P. G. E., was passed by the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

C. E. JENNEY GETS NEW YORK OFFICE

Popular Canadian National Official to Be Banquetted

Charles E. Jenney, district passenger agent, Canadian National Railways, Vancouver, has been appointed general agent for the Canadian National Railways at New York and will take up his new duties at the American metropolis next month.

Mr. Jenny is one of the most popular officials in British Columbia transportation circles, and his many friends, while wishing him every success in his new sphere, will regret his departure from this coast. Prior to the absorption of the Grand Trunk Pacific by the Canadian National Railways, Mr. Jenney was general agent in charge at the Vancouver office, being succeeded by Osborne Scott, following the amalgamation of the railway lines. Since that time he has been district passenger agent in charge of steamship traffic.

Banquet In His Honor.

Mr. Jenney has a very wide circle of friends and is popularly known from San Francisco to Prince Rupert. He is leaving Vancouver for New York on December 8, and a farewell banquet in his honor is being arranged in transportation circles to be held at the Citizens' Club at Vancouver on December 1. Transportation will be fully represented at this notable gathering and a party from Victoria will help to remind the departing guest of his popularity in the capital city of British Columbia.

CAIRNGOWAN WAS ASHORE OFF DEAL

London, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Urgent distress messages were received yesterday morning at Deal, southeast coast of England, that a large steamship was ashore in that vicinity in a thick haze. A lifeboat and numerous motor boats proceeded to offer assistance and found the steamship Cairngowan, bound for Montreal, from Leith in ballast. She was released and anchored off Deal, where the crew is now clearing the decks of huge quantities of sand which was washed aboard by the heavy seas.

Doctors Advise—

patients, suffering from acute throat or lung troubles, to get away from the cities to the pine-forest mountain resorts, and there live in the open-air as much as possible. Why? Because there is a wonderful exhalation from Pine trees, which, breathed into the lungs and air-passages, heals, strengthens and re-invigorates them.

Today, by the wonderful aid of Science, these volatile fumes and other medicinal agents are compressed into unique breatheable tablets known as Peps. These bring the healing pine forest air into your own home. You strip Peps of their silver wrappers and dissolve the tablets in your mouth. The germicidal air-like medicine which is liberated is carried with the breath into your air-tubes and lungs where it quickly stops the most troublesome cough, relieves soreness and tightness, and soothes and heals the inflamed bronchial tubes.

Peps are the direct scientific treatment—the remedy that has revolutionized treatment of coughs, colds, chills, bronchitis, and all soreness or irritation of throat or chest. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

No Appetite

Nervous exhaustion leads to distaste for food. The nerves of the stomach are weak, digestion fails and you become generally upset and out of sorts.

The secret of complete restoration is in getting the nervous system fully built up.

Mrs. R. Cheney, 208 Richmond St., Chatham, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with indigestion, which caused me many sleepless nights. I would be in terrible distress at times, and would get no relief for two or three hours. For sixteen months I ate nothing but Shredded Wheat biscuits, as I dare not eat anything else. I did not know what to do, as I had tried so many different remedies, as well as doctors' medicines, without gaining permanent relief. Finally I got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and while on the second box noticed that I was improving. I continued the treatment until I am now fully restored, and have returned to my regular diet. My husband has also taken Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with splendid results, so we are glad to recommend it to others."

McKenzie Avenue Parent-Teachers.—The McKenzie Avenue P.-T. Association will hold their regular meeting to-night at 8 o'clock in the Garden City hall. Dr. H. J. Henderson will speak after which there will be a musical programme and refreshments. It is hoped that all members and friends will be present.

Twenty-Two Register.—The Works Committee of the Saanich Council was last night informed that twenty-two names of residents of Ward Two and Seven had been listed as needing work as a result of the opening of a register of unemployed by Mr. Dwyer of Burnside Road. The list was initiated by Ward Seven Ratepayers, and has been laid over pending the institution of either waterworks or wood-cutting work.

o o o

Cannot Afford Donation.—"Taking into consideration the condition of the municipal finances, I would tell the Council I contributed personally and recommend the like course to the Councillors," said Reeve Watson last night, when the Saanich Council was asked for a donation towards the mainland flooding disaster fund by the Chamber of Commerce special committee. Councillors Kingwell and Ormond agreed that, with an empty treasury and an impending unemployment problem, Saanich was not able to make a municipal donation, the refusal motion passing unanimously.

For Halifax Naval School.—The Boys' Naval Brigade is continuing its good work of preparing boys for the Canadian navy, a request for two more boys being received from the Canadian Naval Training School at Halifax, N.S. The request was accompanied by a congratulatory message endorsing the excellent manner acquired by the boys under the Victoria Naval Brigade. The two leaving shortly are Charles Daniel MacMartin, son of the late Dr. MacMartin and Mrs. MacMartin, of Cordova Bay, and Leslie Collin Curtis, of 3740 Douglas Street, son of Mr. Curtis of The Colonist composing staff.

The Council was also asked for a copy of the wording of the cemetery referendum proposed to be placed before Saanich ratepayers. The letters were referred to the Saanich members of the Intermunicipal Committee. Councillor Kingwell objected to a referendum composed of a simple question of few words, as being too inadequate. Councillor Horner declared that all indications point to an unusual amount of oratory in the municipal elections campaign, and expected to hear the cemetery plan warmly discussed.

Welcomed by Councillors.—For the first time for months, Assessor R. R. F. Sewell, of Saanich, was last night present at a session of the Saanich Council, being warmly welcomed by the councillors, and congratulated upon his recovery from a severe attack of typhoid fever. His presence again revived interest in the efforts Councillor Kingwell and the Ward Five Ratepayers' Association have of late made to secure the examination of a woman at Prospect Lake alleged to be a typhoid carrier. Councillor Kingwell was informed that the Saanich municipal solicitors had prepared, at the request of the Government, an amendment to the Health Act which will make clear the power of municipalities to examine and if necessary incarcerate carriers of disease. The Council was informed that, under existing legislation, there is no doubt of the authority of the Province, but there is a cloudiness upon municipal power in such cases.

Confirm Bond Deal.—The Saanich Council last night confirmed the action of Clerk Cowper in selling $100,000 of the Waterworks Extension Bonds at a price of $100.75, and also $21,000 of War Memorial Health Centre bonds on a 6½ per cent basis. The fact that, to enable the purchaser to realize a profit, the bonds must be re-sold on a basis equal to or better than the price attained for British Columbia provincial issues, proved highly pleasing to the Council.

Is It Worth 50 Cents?

"Money can't buy anything else like this wonderful herbal Zam-Buk. It's simply priceless!" says one enthusiastic mother.

For injuries, Zam-Buk is the indispensable ever-ready healer. Where there is any skin or scalp disease, Zam-Buk is magical in extracting germs and poisonous impurities and growing new healthy skin. Being prepared exclusively from pure refined herbal essences, all highly concentrated, Zam-Buk retains its medicinal virtues indefinitely. It never goes rancid and useless like fatty salves and ointments do. Yet, whilst so much more safer, purer and reliable, herbal Zam-Buk costs no more to buy.

From Stadacona St., Montreal, Mrs. Villiers, writes:—"For healing, give me Zam-Buk! It is the finest thing I know. It saved me from a poisoned hand, rid my three children of scalp sores, and healed my husband's badly crushed finger. We wouldn't be without it at any price."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an aches or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. (Advt.)

PRIVY COUNCIL ALLOWS APPEAL

Decision in Wilson vs. E & N. Railway

Appeal in E. & N. vs. Dunlap Dismissed

London, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press)—The Privy Council to-day allowed the appeal of Charles Wilson vs. the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company and dismissed the cross-appeal. The matter in appeal was concerning an action to set aside a crown grant of mineral lands. The Privy Council dismissed a similar appeal in the case of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company vs. Elizabeth Dunlap.

The two cases arose out of the litigation attendant upon the passage of the Vancouver Island Settlers' Rights Act. The point at issue was the ownership of under-surface minerals.

Met With Nasty Accident.—Mrs. Levy, aged 81 years, an old and respected resident of West Road, Saanich, met with a nasty accident on Sunday evening, when she fell down the stairs at the home of Mrs. Bolton, 1052 Topaz Avenue. Mrs. Levy is well-known as an indefatigable worker for the Red Cross during the war, making over 150 shirts as well as many pairs of socks for the men overseas.

Gives Contribution. — Councillor Vantreight last night asked the Saanich Council to contribute $1,100 from general revenue, towards the cost of carrying electric lighting service to Ward Three, this to cover installation of six street lights. The grant was made after it was explained to be on a par with the amount contributed from general revenue towards the original street lighting system in the inner wards in 1913. Councillor Brooks consistently opposed the grant, at one time describing the extension as "an unnecessary luxury" and being the only negative on the vote, was so recorded at his request.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things:

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

CALL TENDERS FOR SCRAPPING OF OLD VIADUCT SHORTLY

Tenders for scrapping the present Johnson Street Bridge will be called by the City Engineer's Department immediately. This means that the city has finally decided to abandon plans for installing the present Johnson Street span at Rock Bay. In fact, no action will be taken on the new Rock Bay Bridge project. The civic authorities feel that they cannot afford to build a new bridge now. Installation of a bridge at Rock Bay was urged by the Trades and Labor Council in a resolution passed at that organization's last meeting.

ACROSS THE BAY

Requesting the Government to to come to their assistance in repairing roads and bridge damaged by the recent floods, a delegation from Maple Ridge municipality waited upon Premier Oliver Thursday morning.

He promised to lay the matter before the Minister of Public Works immediately and see if assistance could be given.

The petition of residents in the Stave River section, to break away from Maple Ridge and Mission municipalities and to incorporate, as a separate municipality, was thrown out by Private Bills committee Thursday morning.

The area affected includes the power plant of the British Columbia Electric Company at Stave Falls.

Opposition to incorporation was made by Reeve John McIver, representing Maple Ridge, and Reeve Knight of Mission, together with municipal clerks and legal counsel.

Sam Guthrie is asking Attorney-General Farris for the dates on which William Fraser, R. D. Mitchell, John Jones and W. W. Southern applied for the job of liquor vendor at Ladysmith.

R. H. Pooley has some more questions about the Game Board and will put them to Attorney-General Farris as follows:

1. How many guns or other firearms have been confiscated since January, 1917, consequent upon convictions secured under the "Guide Act?"

2. By what Courts have they been ordered confiscated in each case?

3. Where are said guns or firearms now?

4. Have they been sold; if so, who to in each case and at what prices?

5. To what account were the proceeds placed in the Public Accounts?

DR. BAKER SUSPENDED

Dr. A. R. Baker, Chairman of the Game Conservation Board, has been suspended from office, Attorney-General Hon. J. W. de B. Farris announced to-day. Magistrate H. C. Shaw, of Vancouver, will be the commissioner to investigate the charges against the Game Board, Mr. Farris stated. Magistrate Shaw has had ten years' experience in his position, and was appointed by the former Provincial Government. Chief Game Inspector Hird has also been suspended with Dr. Baker.

CITY ENTERS ITS DEFENCE IN ELK WATERWORKS CASE

Technical Evidence Is Heard in Damage Suit

The suit of Kingwell versus the City of Victoria continued in the Supreme Court to-day before Mr. Justice Gregory, with F. A. McDiarmid for the plaintiff, Councillor Eric G. Kingwell, and H. S. Pringle for the Corporation of Victoria. Counsel for the plaintiff closed his case to-day with evidence in respect to letters that passed between the city engineer's department and the plaintiff.

Plaintiff had written to the city that last year eleven acres of crop had been spoiled, and that this year his land had twice been flooded. The letter from the city replied that upon investigation it was found that the flooding was due to an unauthorized opening of the valves in the dam, and that the valves were now locked.

Technical Evidence.

In opening his defence for the city, Mr. Pringle called City Engineer Preston. The witness explained to the court the situation of the waterworks at Elk Lake, using a number of blue prints for this purpose. Much of the evidence was of a technical nature dealing with the amount of leakage at certain times, and the tests made to discover this fact.

Upon notification by the plaintiff on May 7 last the foreman had been dispatched to view the flood, and one week later witness had inspected the grounds for himself. The dam of the city at the end of the lake, and the valves were in good condition, being standard equipment. There had been no complaints prior to this in many years. The cribbing on the inside of the dam had been replaced this year, and the space between that and the dam wall would be filled in subsequently. The dam was sound, and not leaking, to any appreciable extent. Two minor leaks had been located, but not from the water behind the dam.

Between the city dam and a beaver dam, 700 feet to the south was a permanent swamp, with the bed one foot higher than the lake. This swamp was fed by the formation of the ground, making it a saucer to retain watersheds from surrounding high lands. The water in the swamp was four feet higher, sometimes more, and did not come from the city waterworks.

A Natural Declivity.

At this stage counsel for the city adduced evidence of a technical nature to show that the water coming to the Kingwell property from the direction of the dam was not from that dam, but from rainfall in a natural declivity of the ground. After further evidence of a like nature the hearing was adjourned until this afternoon.

At the close of the hearing yesterday afternoon, Frederick G. Quick, former owner of the Kingwell land, corroborated in part the evidence of the plaintiff. W. H. Green and T. E. Halsor, soldier settlers and neighbors, affirmed that their land too had been damaged by the flood.

TO CLIMB FACE OF CENTRAL BUILDING

"Human Fly" Will Walk Blindfold on Edge of Roof

Bobby Simpson, "The Human Fly," will scale the flat perpendicular face of the Central Building and then dangle head downward from the flagpole on the roof to-morrow afternoon.

Simpson will start up the side of the Central Building at half past two under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans. After reaching the top of the building he will walk around the outer edge of the roof blind-folded. Then he will stand on his head on the outermost corner of the roof. Not satisfied with this he will balance on two legs of a chair on the roof's edge. If he gets through this successfully he will crawl up the flagpole and perform various stunts up there. Finally he will end his performance by sliding down the flagpole head first.

A collection will be taken up among the crowd which will assemble to watch the Human Fly in aid of the Army and Navy Veterans relief fund.

LIBERAL MEETINGS

Following to-night's big public meeting in the Pantages Theatre in support of William Ivel, Liberal candidate for Victoria, a series of meetings will be held in the various wards.

STOCKS UNEVEN IN TO-DAY'S SESSION

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

New York, Nov. 18.—Quite naturally after the market's advance of the last two days the list to-day was called upon to absorb some rather large sized offerings representative of profit-taking transactions, but the manner in which quotations absorb such offerings was most gratifying. In fact, it was clearly evident throughout the session that there was an excellent demand for stock which was ready to assert itself on any recession.

News from Washington regarding the taxation problem was interpreted in favorable fashion.

GRAINS ADVANCE IN TO-DAY'S SESSION

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The trade was of small proportions and the market lacked a definite trend during the morning session, although throughout the afternoon market prices rallied from tw oto three cents above early levels. The close was steady and firm. The general news was not influential, having little effect on the market. The small offerings in the local spot market were in good demand on a firm basis. Corn and oats displayed strength on outside buying power and moved upwith wheat.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—The local wheat market held steady during the first hour of trading to-day and then turned sharply higher with an advance of 4 cents recorded. The strength was really in the November position, but the more deferred positions were following in line. Buying orders in November found this month decidedly tight, which forced up the prices. The buying was evidently for trading purposes. The market reacted slightly from the high of the day and closed with a gain of 1¾ to 2¾ cents.

There was an excellent demand for the two top grades of cash wheat and premiums were traditionally higher. Offerings were more liberal.

There was very little change in the coarse grain situation, with prices firmer to-day in sympathy with the advancing wheat market.

Inspections totalled 1,386 cars, of which 1,182 were wheat.

WILL WINTER HERE.

A strong advocate for the linking of the Pacific Great Eastern at Clinton with the Canadian Pacific Railway at Ashcroft is A. Macaulay, a stock farmer from the Chilcotin district, who is registered at the Strathcona Hotel with his family.

Mr. Macaulay reports steady development in stock raising in his district, breeders shipping chiefly from Williams Lake, although when service on the P. G. E. is interrupted, the longer march has to be made.

Mr. Macaulay, who has been an occasional visitor to Victoria for over 30 years, plans to spend the Winter in this city.

Rep Team Is Primed For Its First Game Hopes For Dry Field

Boss Johnson Will Lead His Rugby Squad Against Vancouver To-morrow Fully Confident That Success Will Be Theirs; Team Is Faster But Lighter Than Last Year, Which Will Give Them Big Advantage If Ground Is Dry.

TOM HEYLAND

"I think we will be able to do the trick. It's going to be a tough job, but we've got one of the finest teams that ever represented the Capital. We are hoping for a dry field so that we can use our speed. A muddy field would be to our disadvantage. But mud or no mud we will do our best to cop our first game in the McKechnie Cup series."

That's what Boss Johnson, captain of the Victoria rep. rugby team thinks of his team's chances in the match which is to be played at Vancouver to-morrow afternoon. The red shirts stack up against the Terminal City fifteen, which has already figured in one McKechnie Cup game this season. They were defeated on Thanksgiving Day by Varsity.

Made a Good Job.

The selection Committee of the Victoria Rugby Union made a very good job of picking the rep. squad this time. Last year there was a lot of criticism, but this time it looks as though the best men are to take the field.

The team is considerably lighter than the one which represented the Capital last season, but it is expected that the speed of both the backs and forwards will counteract this. Neither the Gillespie giants, Stolte nor Ronald will be in the pack this year. They have discarded their heated shoes. In their places will be young, hard players, some of whom have to earn their spurs in rep. company.

Three Are Very Fast.

While the forwards are lighter and may have to yield a little ground in the scrums to the heavier Vancouver squad, they will be irresistible at dribbling and in the open. Pendray is expected to prove his worth at dribbling and with the never-tiring Brynjolfson and the rest of the pack after him like a lot of wolves it is expected that the Mainlanders will have their hands full trying to stop the rushes.

If the field is dry the spectators will be treated to some of the finest three-quarter work that has ever been exhibited in the history of the game in this Province. The back division is exceptionally brilliant, possessing abundant speed and plenty of "brain." The inclusion of McNaught, the Wanderers' new scrum half, will give the locals ample chance to bring their threes into action. With Nairn-Robertson, Edwards, Tom Heyland and Art Webster on the three-quarter line, the Vancouvers will have to have a watchful eye to hold their speedsters in check. Give them "an opening and nothing will stop them. Heyland and Webster are among the fastest boys in the Province who ever carried the pigskin. They are only youngsters but they can use their heads as well as their feet.

McNaught Is Good.

McNaught is a great acquisition to city rugby. He arrived here about six weeks ago from England, where he has been playing county rugby. He obtained his county cap last year with Yorkshire. He was here in 1914-15 with the 2nd C. M. R's and played a few games. He is now at the height of his form. McNaught shines at passing. He makes a perfect throw and is able to take the ball in almost any position. He will have with him as a mate Billie Wilson.

Bill Ellis, who makes openings as readily as a yeggman will play five-eighth. Bill was formerly a Vancouver rep. player and welcomes the chance to go back and convince the folks across the Gulf that he still knows a trick or two despite the fact that some of locks have worn off.

Boss Johnson, who will captain the squad, will perform at full back. There's no doubt about that job being well filled.

Interest Runs High.

Victorians will watch with interest the outcome of this match. Both teams are very confident. Vancouver feels that their loss to 'Varsity was a misfortune and will be avenged the next time they meet. But Vancouver must not lose sight of the fact that their team is not as strong as it was last season. The loss of so many 'Varsity players has weakened their line-up. Last year the Terminal City rep. team included eight collegians. This year they have none, through 'Varsity entering a separate team. This gives Victoria a splendid chance to bring back the cup. The Capital is much stronger than last year, when the locals gave the Mainlanders a very close call, losing out by one point.

The Victoria players have been working out hard this week. One practise was held Tuesday and another last night and every man was in the best of shape and anxious to get at their old rivals. The match will be played at Brockton Point and arrangements are being made to handle a crowd of 5,000 spectators.

The locals will leave on to-night's boat and will be accompanied by a number of supporters.

The teams will be as follows:

Victoria—Full back, B. Johnson (Bays); three-quarters, J. C. I. Edwards (Naval College), T. Heyland (Bays), A. Webster (Bays), N. Robertson (Old Boys); five-eighths, W. Ellis (Bays); halves, E. N. MacNaught (Wanderers), W. Wilson (Old Boys); forwards, E. Pendray (Wanderers), W. Tolmie (Old Boys), C. Sanson (Bays), E. Brynjolfson (Bays), J. McRae (Bays), J. B. Acland (Wanderers), J. Miller (Bays).

Vancouver—Full back, Goodacre; three-quarters, Tyrwhitt, Mackin, Hunter, Winch; five-eighths, Lord; halves, Marshall, Annance; forwards, Brown, C. Clarke, Decker, Bayliss, Grieves, Stewart, D. Clarke.

"Gil" Lewis is the selection for spare three-quarters and A. Lord for the forward division.

GRADUATES FORM A NEW ATHLETIC BODY

University Amateur Athletic Association Formed at Montreal

Montreal, Nov. 18.—At a meeting of university graduates and others who have attended a university in Canada, held at the McGill University last night, the University Amateur Athletic Association was formed with a view to foster and promote amateur sport in Montreal.

It will be open to graduates or others who attended a university in Canada and who are now resident in this city and will be affiliated with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Hockey and rugby will be the chief sports entered into by the new organization.

Will Play U. S. Team.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Following the good showing of the McGill team against the Syracuse University here recently under American rules, the McGill Rugby Executive is considering the question of a game with a United States university for next Fall, either here or across the border.

Ned Hume, assistant manager of the McGill Rugby Football Club, during the season just closed, was appointed secretary and manager of the club for next year, last night, subject to the approval of the student council.

HOCKEY TICKETS CAN BE RESERVED NOW

Last Year's Ticket Holders Protected Till To-morrow; Plan Open Then

As the days roll by the hockey fans are getting anxious about their seats for the games. Many of them fear that the game will be so popular this Winter that there won't be even a chance for a seat on the rafters.

Manager Patrick announced this morning that last year's holders of season tickets can make sure of their old seats right now if they so desire. By calling at the offices of the Arena Company, Douglas Street, they can rebook. Lester stated that last year's holders will be protected, until to-morrow night. If they desire to rebook they can do so, but on Monday the plan will be thrown open and the first to come will get the pick. Particulars in regard to the season tickets will be gladly furnished by Manager Patrick.

With three of the best teams the league has ever possessed it is expected that the sport will experience an unprecedented patronage. Those who secure front row seats for the season will be lucky.

This season has been disastrous for national golfing champions. Not one succeeded in holding his or her crown.

AFRICANS RECOVER AND OBTAIN DRAW WITH AUSTRALIANS

London, Nov. 18.—The second cricket test match between Australia and South Africa was declared drawn yesterday. Australia scored 450 and seven for no wickets, the South Africans replying with 243 and 472 for eight wickets (innings declared). They played at Johannesburg.

ROY CARES NAUGHT FOR LOCAL ACTION

Secretary of D.F.A. Says Victoria Footballers Are Not Recognized

Says That Statement of Scottish Tour Will Be Ready Within Few Days

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—A rough draft of the financial statement to be issued by the Dominion Football Association in connection with the tour of the Scottish professional team during the past Summer will be ready for issue in two or three days.

This statement was made by Secretary David Roy in reply to the many queries which have been published recently. Following the issuance of the draft, the receipts and vouchers will be placed in the hands of auditors.

Secretary Roy asks the soccer officials who have been "generous with their accusations" to "study patience, and exercise a little common sense."

Victoria Not Recognized.

Referring to the proposed action by the Victoria and District Football League, Mr. Roy states that body is not recognized by the D. F. A., but is only in affiliation with the parent body through its provincial organization. The Quebec inquiry has been answered by personal letter to Tom Mitchell, president of the Quebec branch.

GARRISON FOOTBALL

Playing on a wet field and with a soggy ball the Departmental Corps and the Artillery met in the Garrison soccer league, which ended in a one-all draw. Play was fairly even from the start, with the Departmental Corps showing up as slightly the better of the two teams. At half-time there was no score.

The league standing is now as follows:

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
P.P.C.L.I.	3	3	0	0	6
Departmental Corps	4	2	1	1	5
Artillery	4	1	1	2	3
Machine Gunners	3	0	0	3	0

Leaders Meet Tail-Enders.

On Monday the Princess Pats, who are at present leading the league, will play the Machine Gunners, who are at the reverse end. The league leaders should not have much trouble in defeating the tailenders, but surprises are quite common in soccer these days. The Pats will be minus two of their best players, namely Gibson and Spiers, and should the Gunners be successful in defeating the fast-stepping Pats, it will be their first defeat this season.

JIM RILEY NOT YET LANDED BY MULDOON

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Peter Muldoon, generalissimo of the Seattle hockey forces, received welcome words from two prospective members of the 1921 Met. sepette yesterday. Red Briden wrote the skipper he was taking the train from the East for the Coast on November 24, and to have his unie ready for him. The new man wrote from Halleysburg, Ont., and is expected to land in this city not later than Tuesday morning, November 29. This is one day later than the scheduled start of regular hockey practice, but Muldoon expects Briden to make town in time to indulge in the initial practice with the squad Monday.

The second good news was from Big Jim Riley, the husky forward who is now in the prairie district at the home of his brother. Jim had not been heard from until yesterday and when he penned his address to Muldoon, the sky brightened considerably. Pilot Pete will get in touch at once with Riley, and little trouble is anticipated in signing the last year's wing man to a contract.

Are Limbering Up.

Although official call for practice will not be sounded until Monday, November 28, the five members on the Met roster now in town will take the opportunity to limber up before that time. They will take their sticks and shoot and puck around a bit, starting next week, thus putting them in better shape for the real work. A few days of knocking the disk around will sharpen up the goal-getting and knock off the few rough corners which accumulate during absence from the ice.

Roy Rickey, Harry Holmes, Jack Walker, Bobby Rowe and Gordon Fraser will be the men to take the first workout next week.

WON HIS FIGHT IN DECISIVE FASHION

KID LEWIS

London, Nov. 18.—Ted "Kid" Lewis, the English middleweight champion, defeated Boy McCormick, the best British light heavyweight, in the fourteenth round of a twenty-round bout last night. The referee stopped the fight in order to save McCormick from further punishment.

McCormick bled profusely from a cut over the eye during the final rounds and was greatly hampered. In the fourteenth round Lewis drove a hard blow to McCormick's mouth, knocking out a tooth. At the close of this round the referee examined McCormick's injured eye and then declared Lewis the winner.

Gave Away Weight.

Lewis conceded McCormick fifteen pounds, which was expected to compensate McCormick for his inferiority in science.

Lewis was the aggressor from the start. It was a hard-fought contest in which there was much infighting.

It was in the sixth round that Lewis, with a hard right, split McCormick's eyebrow, bringing streams of blood.

In the eleventh McCormick drove in two straight lefts, but in attempting another was met with a couple of straight lefts to the chin. In the twelfth round Lewis caught McCormick with another right to the head, which re-opened the damaged eye, and in the thirteenth landed two hard lefts to the damaged spot.

Yarrows to Default Game to Wests; Not Able to Field Team

First Game That Has Been Defaulted This Season; Three of Yarrows' Players Apply For Transfers; Others Injured and Unable to Play; Only Two First Division Games Will Be Played To-morrow.

Two points will go to the Wests to-morrow as a result of Yarrows being unable to field a team in a First Division fixture. This will be the easiest points the Wests have gathered all season and the team will be able to lay off for the day.

This is the first game that has been defaulted this season. Yarrows have been forced to do it as eight of their regular players will not be available for the game. Three of the booters have put in transfers, three others will be unable to attend owing to business reasons and another pair is on the injured list.

Trio Want Transfers.

The Yarrows management has just been notified that Ginger Bloom and Rickinson have applied for transfers to the Thistles, while Swan is moving to Cumberland and wants to play soccer there. The removal of these players creates a big gap in the team, but a team would have been fielded had not it been for the injuries and inability of other athletes to take the field.

"We hope to be able to turn out a team the following Saturday," remarked one of the officials of the club this morning. "We are not done yet."

Are Off Form.

Yarrows have not shown the form this year that made them the fear of the league last year. They hung on in third place for a time, but when defeated last Saturday they slipped down to the fourth berth. The team lacks the speed and combination which gave it so many victories last season.

With the cancelling of the Wests-Yarrows fixture there remain but two games in the First Division to-morrow. One of these will be between Old Country teams, the Thistles being billed to meet the Sons of England. The way the "blokes" have been travelling of late makes it look as though they will be able to take the measure of the tail-enders. The Sons are now in third place and playing a very smart game. The Thistles have yet to score their first win of the season.

Mets Meet Tommies.

The Mets and Garrison will provide an interesting game. Last year's champions are expected to keep on the trail of the Wests by annexing the points but the Garrison can be relied upon staging a very fast game.

The schedule for to-morrow is as follows:

First Division.

Metropolis vs. Garrison at Royal Athletic Park. Referee, Brown.

Thistles vs. Sons of England at the Stadium. Referee, Faulkner.

Second Division.

Native Sons of Canada vs. Sons of England at Central Park. Referee Lawrence.

C. P. R. vs. Wilsons at Beacon Hill. Referee, Wilcox.

Junior Division.

Wests vs. Gorge at Macaulay Point. Referee, Knapman.

Saanich Thistles vs. James Bays at Central Park lower ground. Referee, Payne.

The teams will be as follows:

Sons of England, First—Hetherington; Tuckwell, Carmichae; Petch, Tupman, Harwood; Harper, Turner, Small, Smith, Davies. Reserves: A. Kerby.

Sons of England, Second—Rhodes; Lamphere, Ford; McGimpsey, Rex, Lewis; Bryson, Blacklock, Dunn, Erickson, Shanks. Reserves: Walton, Holman, Kerr.

C. P. R.—Miller; Davidson and Sherwood; Male, Lupton and Brindley; Kelly, McCarrison, Grant, Brerar and Squires. Reserves: Obee, McNeil and Upward.

Wilsons United—Dunn, Smillie, McKenzie, Young, Gardler, Dowell, Bray, Jones, Dowell, Bryant and Marshall.

Saanich Thistles—Hogan, Moir, Price, Shanks, Crow, Alexander, McCullam, McGregor, Essler, Anderson and Ewing. Reserve: Connorton.

Thistles—Rogers; Miller, Munroe; Pitts, Faichen, Potter; Howden, Sandison, Weight, Newman, A. Mulcahy. Reserves: Hewitt, Breadner, Moulton, Walsh.

Players to meet at the Stadium at 2 o'clock.

The Metropolis Second Division team holds a bye to-morrow. The following players are to turn out at the Albion grounds at 2.30 sharp, for a practice game with Rithets: Bucketts, Dowds, McIlvride, Drysborough, Chester, Gillingham, Bigham, Tosteven, Barrie, Hayward, Clunk.

NEW RECORD IS SET FOR 100-YARD BACK STROKE SWIM IN WEST

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 18.—The Western Association Amateur Athletic Union record for the 100-yard backstroke swim was broken at the Omaha Athletic Club during a meet last night by D. L. Dimond, of Omaha, who swam the distance in 1,21 4-5 or 3-5 second under the mark established by him last April.

BRANDOW WILL PLAY WITH CALGARY ROVERS

Calgary, Nov. 18.—Reuben Brandow, left wing of last year's Calgary Canadians, has signed to play for the Calgary Rovers in the Western Canada Professional Hockey League this Winter. Brandow played with Selkirk before coming to Calgary. It is said that he had an even more tempting offer to play hockey in Eveleth, Minn.

Parkes, New Hockey Star, Was Born Here

Young Whirlwind Who Has Been Signed by Vancouver Was Raised Here, But Went East, Where He Learned to Play—May Be Sensation

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—Vancouver's puck-chasing stock went up a few points yesterday when Ernie Parkes, for the past few seasons one of the stars in the Ontario Hockey Association senior series, penned his John Hancock on the dotted line of a Vancouver contract. Attracted by the newcomer's display on his first appearance on Vancouver ice a couple of nights ago when he worked out with the Towers, Frank Patrick lost no time in corralling Parkes. They had an interview and before the party broke up the youngster's signed contract was tucked away in the strong box and the Millionaires are in possession of a player who may prove a sensation.

Eight Players in Fold.

Parkes is the eighth player to sign with Vancouver. Lehman, Cook, Mackay, Harris, Skinner, Jack Adams and Sid Desireau returned their signed contracts a few days ago. The puck-chasers will settle down to training on Saturday, November 26.

Born in Victoria.

Parkes is a cleancut lad, a native son, having been born in Victoria. Fifteen years ago the Parkes family went back to Ontario, and Ernie went along. From the time he struck the East he took to the ice sport like a duck to water. Playing first with a college team at Port Hope, he later broke into the big series, and for several seasons was with Kitchener, one-time Allan Cup holders. Standing about five feet six inches, and weighing between 130 and 135 pounds. Parkes possesses a lot of speed and stickhandling ability, in fact, his all-round work created quite a furore among the railbirds at the Towers' practice the other evening. He is a light player to be breaking into the big professional circuit, but coast fans will remember Dick Irwin as a mere stripling, while Mickey Mackay was in the lightweight class when he first jumped into the Coast League in 1916. And both Irwin and Mackay developed into puck-chasing wizards, so the weight handicap should not bother the former Kitchener star, who Toronto critics declare proved one of the best men in the big eastern amateur loop.

Still After Another.

The Vancouver club, woefully weak in the matter of substitutes in past seasons, is still scouting for another star to round out the club. With substitutes to be given more opportunity to perform this season, the Millionaires are going out after the best talent available, and Frank Patrick stated yesterday that he is still looking for material to bolster up the team. The acquisition of Parkes has enthused the local magnate who figures Vancouver will be strong in all departments for the coming race.

Hang It All; Lehman's Back Again.

Hughie Lehman, more familiarly known as "Eagle Eye," the boss goalkeeper in professional hockey, will be on the job when the Seattle Mets oppose the champions in the first match here on Monday, December 5. For a time it was believed that the early date set for the start of the series would prevent Lehman from making the grade in time, but advices have come to hand to the effect that he is dusting up the travelling bag preparatory to starting west from Ontario, where he spends the Summers, and that he will be along in time to don the armor for the opening tilt.

Alf Skinner, right winger of the Millionaires, will be here when Manager Lloyd Cook calls the roll for the first practice.

Investigate Standings.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—At a meeting of the governors of the Manitoba branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada here last night, the Manitoba Hockey Association was requested to look into the amateur standings of Bobby Armstrong and W. Hill, now of Fort William and last year with the Brandon Hockey Club, also Amby Moran, Jimmy Gibson and Billy Borland, former Winnipeggers.

The cases of Cliff O'Meara who played with Weyburn, Sask., last Winter, and Harry Oliver, who was at Calgary, are to be investigated. Both are back in the city. Several baseball players lost their cards, including Barney McPhail, of the Falcon Hockey Club.

M'NAMARA AND M'BEATH WIN OUT IN BIKE RACE

New York, Nov. 18.—McNamara and McBeath won first place in the 24-hour bike race which ended last night in a wild series of sprints in Madison Square Garden. Lawrence and Thomas finished second; Grenda and Clark third.

SAANICHTON ANXIOUS FOR BASKETBALL GAMES

WANDERERS AND OLD BOYS INTERMEDIATE TEAMS ARE PLAYING

Only one rugby game is on the card for Victoria fans to-morrow. The Intermediate League has a game down for decision. The Wanderers and Old Boys are to meet at Oak Bay Park at 2.45 o'clock. In the last battle between these teams the Wanderers won out, but the Old Boys are anxious to reverse the score this time.

The Wanderers will line up as follows: Goodacre, A. Walls, C. Walls Givens, Moddy, Hope, McMullen, Honeychurch, Allen, Bredin, Neroutsos, Woodhouse, Copeman, Christy Reserve Gropp.

S.S. BASKETBALL TO OPEN DECEMBER 10

Decision Made at Meeting Last Night; Season Will Wind Up March 15

At a meeting of the Sunday School Athletic Association last night, held in the Y.M.C.A. it was decided to hold the opening game of the Sunday School Basketball League on December 10, with the ladies' series commencing four days ahead on December 6. The Y.M.C.A. made an offer to the association for the use of their gymnasium for the league and a finance committee consisting of Douglas Smith, Capt. A. E. Robertson and F. Schroeder, which was appointed last night, will consider the offer.

The entries for the Intermediate and Senior League will close on November 30, and some fifty teams are expected to sign up. The season commencing in the early part of December, will continue until March 15, it being imperative that the schedule be concluded by then. Team colors and designs have been asked to be handed in before next Tuesday so as there will be no confliction of colors after the games have commenced.

An entry in the Intermediate Leageu calls for any boy under the age of 17 and under 125 pounds weight. Any boy reaching his eighteenth birthday on November 30 is eligible. Immediately after the new year the Junior Boys league will be started.

To Appoint Referees.

Referees for the various games will be arranged for by Lewis Fatt, who was appointed to secure referees for the games. The various clubs entering this league are asked to co-operate with Lewis Fatt in securing referees owing to the scarcity of them this year. Entries for the Intermediate League may be sent to Frank Schroeder, of the Fernwood Hardware store.

A swimming gala is being arranged for in the future, being an inter-church affair. The event is creating big interest throughout the Sunday schools. Five churches are preparing already for this event which is to be held either at the Drill Hall or Y.M.C.A. tank.

Bill Hudson was elected chairman of the ice hockey committee, and already there are four prospects for the league.

B. C. basketball championships will be held at the end of the season, when the Vancouver teams will meet those of Victoria for the handsome trophies which are up for competition. The schedule will be drawn up at the next meeting.

DRAFT WILL CAUSE PLENTY OF CHATTER

International Baseball Association to Convene Shortly; Much Business

New York, Nov. 17.—Baseball clans are preparing to gather for the first big pow-wow of the Winter.

Buffalo is to be the scene of action and the occasion the annual conclave of the International Association scheduled December 6. All of the minor leagues will be represented. Big league managers and owners will be on hand, too. Many major league teams are shy on young material and all are eager to get first-hand reports on youthful talent that may have been overlooked in the draft.

The big item on President Sexton's slate for the coming convention is the draft. Adoption or rejection by the association as a whole is to be argued. At present leagues have the right to accept or reject and while most of the small leagues permitted the majors to draft their players this year, the American Association and the International and Pacific Coast Leagues stood pat against it.

Solid Against It.

The Association and the "Coasters" are said to be solidly arrayed against any change, but there is a promise of much wrangling among International Leaguers.

The close approach of the minor league meeting and the coming of the annual major league confabs has started the rumor factory working again. Trades and sales are being hinted at throughout big league circles. The Pittsburg Pirates, it is said, are in for a shaking up and other teams must be revamped.

HOREMAN'S BEATEN BY SCHAEFER WITH EASE

Hoppe Did Not Play Yesterday; Remains Undefeated in Billiard Tourney

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Ora Morningstar, San Diego, yesterday lost his first game in the world's 18.2 balkline billiard tournament when Walker Cochrane, of San Francisco, took his measure 400 to 317 in sixteen innings.

Cochrane had a high run of 131. Morningstar's best run was 70. This leaves Hoppe, world champion, the only undefeated player.

Jake Schaefer, Jr., of Chicago, defeated Horemans, Belgian, champion of Europe, by a score of 400 to 257. The match went twelve innings and Schaefer had a high run of 186.

Broke Up Tie.

Schaefer and Horemans were in a tie at the beginning of the game, each having won one match and lost one. The result ties Schaefer and Cochrane for second place. The game was closely played throughout, the players see-sawing back and forth for the lead. Horemans had a high run of 121.

Earlier in the day, Roger Conti, the French champion, had defeated George Sutton of Chicago 400 to 360. Sutton had a high run of 98 and Conti 93, the game going fifteen innings.

Hoppe Undefeated.

The end of last night's play finds Willie Hoppe, the world's champion, the only undefeated man left in the tournament. Hoppe, however, has only appeared in two matches. He did not play yesterday.

The standing of the players at the close of last night's play was as follows:

	Won.	Lost
Hoppe	2	0
Cochrane	2	1
Schaefer	2	1
Conti	2	2
Morningstar	1	1
Horemans	1	2
Sutton	0	3

BOXING BIFFS

Tendler Gets Match.

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—Lew Tendler, of Philadelphia, and Manuel Azevedo, Pacific coast lightweight, have been mached for an eight-round bout here Thanksgiving afternoon, it was announced to-day.

Grunan Wins Bout.

Tacoma, Nov. 18.—Al Grunan, of Los Angeles, and Frankie Farren, of San Francisco, lightweights, boxed a six-round bout here last night, in the main event of an American Legion smoker here.

Joe Dunn, Portland, welterweight, won the call over "Pinky" Mason, Tacoma, in the semi-windup of six rounds. Jimmy Rivers, Tacoma lightweigth and Kid Johnson, of Olympia, stepped four rounds to a draw.

Charley Davidson, Seattle 120-pounder, won a four-round decision from Eddie Moore, also of Seattle.

"Fore!" shouted the golfer, preparing for a big swipe.

But the woman who was crossing the links paid no attention.

"Fore!" yelled the man with the clubs, angrily. Still she took no notice.

"Try her with three-and-eleven," suggested a friend. "Perhaps she's one of those bargain-hunters."—Tit-Bits.

George Chapman of Newark, motor paced champion of America, cleaned up a total of $12,000 during the season May 30 to Labor Day in distance races at Boston, Philadelphia, Worcester and New Bedford. He has gone abroad, where he will race against European cracks in France, Belgium and Italy until next Spring.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was appplied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. (Adyt.)

COLUMBIA

At the fag end of the great Klondike gold rush is laid the scenes of "Bucking the Tiger" the Selznick Picture which comes to the Columbia Theatre to-day with Conway Tearle as star.

Opposite the star the winsome Winifred Westover plays with all her accustomed wistfulness and appeal, as the character of Emily is one which gives her full scope for the display of her skill in characterization of emotional roles.

The play from which this picture was made, was written by May Tully and Achmed Abdullah and the scenario compiled by Edward J. Montagne of the Selznick Scenario Department. The direction was under the supervision of Henry Kolker.

ENTHUSIASM MARKS RECEPTION OF MISS LOHR'S SECOND PLAY

Miss Marie Lohr's production of "The Voice From the Minaret" last night was given a most enthusiastic reception. Although the play is one of the most striking that has been produced here for years, the audience was not large—certainly not as large as the merits of the production warranted. Miss Lohr and her talented English company were recalled time and time again after each scene, and finally insistent demands brought the star before the curtain at the conclusion of the play to express her appreciation of the ovation accorded her.

DOMINION

Acting as a jury of experts, to determine upon the faithfulness of the English stage settings for "Sacred and Profane Love," Elsie Ferguson's new Paramount picture which will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all week. Sir Gilbert Parker, Elinor Glyn, Edward Knoblock and W. Somerset Maugham, all authors of novals pronounced them flawless and a complete refutation of the statement of a London newspaper that American pictures delineating English scenes are a "feast of absurdities." Conrad Nagel, Thomas Holding, Helen Dunbar, Winifred Greenwood, Clarissa Selwyn and Howard Gaye comprise an excellent supporting cast for the interpretation of the great Arnold Bennett stage success.

CAPITOL

That the modern play or photoplay should be built up with the theme and characters as its foundation, is the theory of Rita Weiman, noted playwright and short story writer, who was engaged especially to write the photoplay for William de Mille's latest production, "After the Show," which will be the feature at the Capitol Theatre this week.

"Not long ago," continues Miss Weiman, "producers built their photoplays on a situation. Theme and characters were secondary. They took a situation, created characters to fit it and evolved a theme to conform to it. I was most enthusiastic in my work with Mr. William de Mille for this new 'photoplay, because our theories in this regard correspond absolutely."

Miss Weiman is prominent as a playwright and author because of the success of several of her plays and short stories in the past two or three years. Her latest play, "The Acquittal," enjoyed long runs and was praised by critics. Her short stories published in The Saturday Evening Post include, "The Stage Door," on which "After the Show," is based, "The Lizard," "The Back Drop," "Footlights," "Curtain," and "Madame Peacock." The last three named have already been adapted to the screen for such stars as Elsie Ferguson, Norma Talmadge and Nazimova.

Miss Weiman made her debut as a scenario writer when she conceived "The Grim Comedian," which was produced by a big producing organization.

This show will be presented tomorrow night.

VARIETY

"A Man's Home," playing at the Variety Theatre all this week, has proved to be one of the best bills played at this theatre, if the Victoria public are good judges. It does not take long for the Variety patrons to stamp the approval or disapproval on a picture, as the people who attend the first night soon tell their friends, and if they are pleased the theatre will be filled the remainder of the week.

"LADIES MUST LIVE" AT DOMINION MONDAY

George Loane Tucker, the maker of "The Miracle Man," is dead! and in his death we catch a clear glimpse of a great truth, which heretofore we have vaguely sensed. Motion pictures did not exist before we of today existed; and we with our eyes have seen their inception, and birth, their growth and flowering, says the Photoplay Magazine. As a result we have failed to grasp their significance as a great enduring force. The art of the silent drama has seemed to us to belong in the category of things immediate and familiar, and to be bound by the limitations of our brief hours of consciousness. But his death brings, too, the compensating knowledge that the deeds and thoughts that men endure. And it makes vivid also for us the knowledge that the art of motion pictures is not only of our short day and generation, but of the long to-morrows and the generations to come. George Loane Tucker was born in Chicago, of a well-known theatrical family. For the screen he produced the English and European version of "The Christian," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Arsene Lupin," perhaps his most notable picture before he was acknowledged as one of the greatest American producing directors, was "Virtuous Wives," starring Anita Stewart. After this came he "Miracle Man," and with it Tucker's complete recognition as one of the masters of screencraft. Tucker made only one picture after "The Miracle Man," it was "Ladies Must Live," which is released by the Famous Players Lasky Corporation and will show at the Dominion all next week.

TO PLAY TO-NIGHT "HER DESTINY"

Marie Lohr Will Be Seen in Notable Drama

When a beautiful, refined and intellectual woman is married to a coarse, sensual and even physically brutal man, when she has an aspiring lover, gentle, sympathetic, superchivalrous, what is the way out? Such is the problem which M. Louis Verneuil set himself in "L'Inconnu." How he solved it, the play must unfold—not, it may at least be revealed, in a conventional fashion. For months it drew all Paris. When it appealed to Miss Marie Lohr, the aid of Mr. Horace Annesley Vachell was enlisted—and he gave the play as "Her Destiny," English circumstance, with the complete approval and appreciation of M. Verneuil—who promises to become one of the notable figures of the French stage. He is no more than twenty eight, delicate and fair haired. He looks the last man to address himself to a tremendous social study, as in "L'Inconnu." He has, in fact, already written twenty eight plays, most of them of a gossamar lightness, Parisian of more serious work in the future. So far, he is most widely known by "Daniel" which was, in fact, a tour de force for the exploitation of Sarah Bernhardt, whose grand-daughter he married. It was soon reproduced on the American and English stages. M. Verneuil is an actor, too. Mr. Horace Annesley Vachell as a youth led an adventurous life, which supplied him with material for a score of the best sellers among modern fiction. He promises to become just as prolific and just as popular as a dramatist.

Miss Lohr will be seen in "Her Destiny" this evening at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Famous Violinist Coming

Jascha Heifetz, Violinist.

Jascha Heifetz who will appear at the Royal Victoria on November 28, began his study of the violin when he was three and a half years old. His father had made for the tiny genius a miniature violin, and gave him his first lessons. According to the stories, the youngster simply devoured every bit of music that came his way, and when he was but five he had mastered all the positions. To the average violinist this sounds very near the impossible. Later on at the Petrograd Conservatory, he absolutely amazed the faculty who examined the candidates for admission. He was then nine years old.

ALL LIQUOR BOARD EMPLOYEES' RECORDS TO BE PUBLISHED

When the motion of G. S. Haines, Independent member for North Vancouver, came up in the Legislature yesterday afternoon, calling for a return of the names and details of the military service of every person employed by the Liquor Control Board, Premier Oliver said the return would be granted.

"But," he went on, "I would like to ask what public purpose is to be served by casting a duty on public departments not only to ascertain who are returned soldiers, but why should the Liquor Control Board be placed in the position of a search committee for the purpose of ascertaining all the details of military service of returned men employed by it."

He said although there is nothing in the Liquor Control Act which casts a duty of that kind on the Board, the Board would obey the mandate of the House and compile the information sought.

There was a young lady of Lynn,
Who was so excessively thin
That when she assayed
To drink lemonade
She slipped through the straw and fell in.

ADVERTISING DOES PAY.

If ADVERTISING did not increase business it would have died years ago. ADVERTISING has created the present day established businesses such as Pear's Soap, Lux Soap, the Kodak, Bryant & May's matches, etc., etc., etc. ADVERTISING is meant to create business; if it does not, then it is the fault of one of three things, i. e., the advertiser, the medium used, or the party responsible for the distribution of the advertising matter.

BRINGING UP FATHER—By GEORGE McMANUS

CITY'S DEMAND ON GOVERNMENT IS TOO DRASTIC HE SAYS

But Council Refuses to Heed Alderman Dinsdale

The resolution demanding "justice" for the municipalities of British Columbia or the resignation of the Provincial Government is too drastic, Alderman Dinsdale warned the Council yesterday. He pointed out that enormous expenses which the Government was facing to-day had been incurred by the previous administration. The Pacific Great Eastern Railway debt was not the result of the present Government's policies, he pointed out. He was in favor of demanding "justice" from the Government but could not support the alternative demand that the Government resign.

"Then, if they refuse to give us justice what?" asked Alderman Sangster. "Would you let them go right on as at present?"

"I understand Victoria is to get $250,000 extra from the Government this year," Alderman Dinsdale went on. "That sum is not to be despised."

"Would you go good for that amount?" Alderman Sangster demanded.

"I am only going by the press," Alderman Dinsdale replied.

A Grave Proposal.

"The action which the Council is being asked to take is very serious," said Alderman Todd, who was largely responsible for starting the city's new fight to secure better terms from the Government. "Not only are the municipalities being despoiled by the present Government but, despite the enormous increase in provincial taxation, published statements show that in the unorganized districts expenditure upon essential public works have been pared to the bone. Where is the Government's great revenue going? The only conclusion is that the money is being squandered and wasted."

Alderman A. M. Aitken questioned the wisdom of the resolution as it stood. He considered the demand that the Government resign unless it gave the municipalities "justice" was too drastic. "Perhaps the report about this resolution is true," he remarked.

"It is quite true: no doubt about that," the Mayor interjected.

Alderman Aitken thought that there might be a great deal of truth in Hon. John Hart's statement that Victoria City Councils had been wasteful in the past. He feared that a number of aldermen were "sore" because the Finance Minister had singled out Victoria's case for mention.

Alderman Dinsdale and Alderman Aiken were accorded no support whatever. When the Council was asked to vote on the resolution demanding "justice" or the Government's resignation all members, save these two, voted in the affirmative.

FURTHER IRISH MOVE AWAITED

ing with Unionist representation in an all-Irish Parliament.

The Bulletin declares that on the principle of proportional representation Unionist Ireland comprises numerically one-fourth of the Irish people.

"In any general governmental assembly as distinct from local government," the newspaper continues, "they should and will receive a one-fourth representation. If they increase in relative numbers their representation will increase. No nation can create within its borders a class having more power than other classes. To do so would be to revert to mediaeval systems of government."

Sixth—Insistence on China's sovereign rights in Manchuria.

Seventh—Creation of a concert of powers with regard to Far Eastern affairs.

Reserved.

Delegates are extremely guarded in expressing opinions on the Far Eastern questions. But though no one is prepared to admit that the proposals of China meet with unqualified approval, they are likely to be accepted even on general lines as were the naval proposals of the United States. The evident desire to substitute definite agreements as to periods for whatever privileges exist in China is regarded as satisfactory. Thus Japan having signified her willingness to withdraw from Shantung. "When the Chinese are capable of taking over its Government," it is forecast that an international commission may be set up to determine when this time has arrived and not leave it in an indefinite state for Japan to determine China desires that in any new alliance. That much she makes clear. Britain would be very glad to get over the obstacles of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance in this way, it is known. Japan also would probably, provided—and here is the obstacle—provided the United States were willing to enter into some formal agreement.

Japan's insistence on the Alliance seems to be weakening but she desires an effective substitute. Whether the United States Senate would be prepared to give this or any other written agreement is very doubtful.

Applauding.

The Senators are all applauding Harding at the moment. Will they fall in line when he cracks the whip on a question of this kind or will Wilson's ignominious failure be repeated? That is one of the main questions which is agitating the conference delegates.

Europe's big problem of land disarmament is sure of a hearing early next week, for Briand is scheduled to be in New York, November 24—preparatory to sailing for home November 25. His statement on France's position is expected Tuesday.

"SONG OF THANKSGIVING"

Maunder's Cantata Repeated on Wednesday Evening.

Quite a large audience listened with careful interest at St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Oak Bay, Wednesday night to another performance of Maunder's Sacred Cantata "Song of Thanksgiving" by Wesley augmented choir.

The selections were rendered in the finished style that has made the entertainment so popular on other occasions and were well received.

All the choruses were good, but the rendering of "Forever, O Lord, Thy Word Endureth," which in part is in fugal form, requiring much expression, was especially fine.

The men's chorus "Great is the Lord," which demands much power especially in the bass part, and is very intricate in its chromatic passages, was given in a creditable manner.

A sweet number, which showed the ladies' voices to advantage was their singing of the chorus "The Streamlet Raised Its Gentle Voice," sang softly, with a melodious accompaniment.

Of the soloists' work, Mrs. Stokes' singing of "O, Lovely Flowers, Blest Messengers Divine," was one of the best numbers of the evening. The trio "While the Earth Remaineth," sang by Miss Buckler, Miss Beatty and Mr. Tupman, was given sympathetically and with marked expression, especially in the planissimo passages. Mr. Guy's tenor solo, and Mr. Mitchell's bass solo, came in for much applause.

Before the Cantata, a short programme was given, consisting of a pianoforte solo by Mrs. Wright and two songs by Mrs. Jameson.

Mrs. (Dr.) Collier at the piano and Oliver R. Stout at the organ worked well together in supporting the choir.

PREMIER JOINS BOWSER AGAINST EIGHT-HOUR BILL

Burde Measure Would Kill Export Business

Not Workable in Agriculture, House Also Told

Nearly two hours were taken by the members of the Legislature Thursday afternoon in consideration of the Burde eight-hour bill.

When it looked as though the measure was about to be voted down, since the Opposition members and most of the Government supporters spoke against it, David Whiteside, Independent member for New Westminster, moved the adjournment of the debate. He asked the indulgence of the House over the week-end in order that he might have an opportunity to see certain employers of labor in several industries and find out if the act could not go into effect soon.

The first speaker was W. J. Bowser, K.C., leader of the Opposition, who said that with unemployment so common in British Columbia, industry making valiant efforts to recover and financial conditions unsettled, it was no time to bring into effect the eight-hour law as proposed by Major Burde.

"We do not want to put on our statute books legislation which would deter the establishment of new industries in this Province and have a serious and disturbing effect on the financial situation and in the end would not benefit the persons it is aimed to benefit," said Mr. Bowser.

No Time for Change Now.

"We are starting on a new era. We not only want to assure those who might invest their capital in this Province that our legislation will be stable, but we do not want to place on our statute books legislation which would encumber the efforts of those at the head of our industries in their efforts to revive industry generally and hamper them in building up the foreign trade which they are now cultivating."

Mr. Bowser reviewed the conditions from the agreement in the Versailles treaty which led up to this and other Legislatures passing eight-hour bills. He recalled how the bill had been put through unanimously at the last session of the Legislature, but was not to come into effect until made operative by other Provinces.

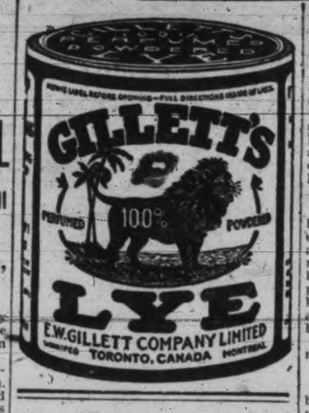
"While we may be in favor of a general eight-hour law, it seems to me that we should be very careful about going any further than we did last year," Mr. Bowser went on. "At the present time we have peculiar economic conditions. We want to create the impression to those who might bring their capital and start industries here that they will be safe for some time from new legislation.

Would Hurt Foreign Trade.

"We find that very few States of the United States have actually put into force the eight-hour law and that some of those who have done so have repealed it."

Mr. Bowser declared that the delegations which recently came to the Parliament Buildings to oppose the eight-hour amendments had put up a strong case. He then went on to deal with the industries which would be affected.

In the lumber industry here, he said, B. C. producers are just succeeding in breaking into foreign markets, particularly in the Far East in competition with American manufacturers. Where this Province formerly shipped 50,000,000 feet, it is now shipping 150,000,000. The eight-hour law here would seriously interfere with this foreign trade as B. C. producers would have to compete with the Washington and Oregon mills which do not have to operate under such a law. In this connection he pointed to the importance of the foreign trade at the present time as the domestic market counted for very little in comparison.



Hamper Pulp Industry.

"We must be careful about anything which might put us back into the place we formerly were in as regards exports," he went on. "While we all agree with the principle of the eight-hour law we should go slow as it seems to me that it would not give labor the advantage it seeks but would cause a larger amount of unemployment in this Province, through the restriction of industries which would find their export business curtailed by the competition of countries where the law is not in force."

As for the pulp and paper industry, Mr. Bowser said that fifty per cent of the market for this product of B. C. was in New York in competition with Norway and Sweden.

"If we place our pulp industry here under any handicap, the pulp industries of Norway and Sweden which pay their men lower wages will be able to compete most successfully with the B. C. mills which are now shipping around the Horn and building up a business in New York," Mr. Bowser went on.

The eight-hour law would be most serious for fish canneries, Mr. Bowser pointed out, because of the peculiar condition of this industry. He said it would be impossible to apply to canneries as the fish came in in large numbers at one time and had to be attended to right away.

Not in Workers' Interests.

Mr. Bowser said that labor was no doubt sincere in asking for the eight-hour law, but there were to-day many people working in these industries earning a living for themselves and their families who would be seriously affected by the curtailment of the operations of these industries. He declared that these men would rather have the Legislature wait for a while before taking such action.

Major Burde interrupted to say that he did not like the Leader of the Opposition to talk so positively on something he did not know anything about.

Mr. Bowser replied that it was all a matter of opinion and that the man who had a family to feed these days would be willing to work more than eight hours a day to get extra or more money and did not want to be restricted in his work or his earnings by the Legislature. He said that if the eight-hour law became effective, the industries would not pay their men the same rate of wages, but would have to cut down as the daily earning power of each machine would be reduced.

Bad for Small Industries.

"In kindness to labor we should say that at this time under an eight-hour law, men would find their wages cut down and that they would not receive the same amount of money per week as now when they can work nine or ten hours if they want to," Mr. Bowser went on.

He said the eight-hour law would disastrously affect small industries in Vancouver, which employed only a few persons, and had to work overtime when a big order comes in. If the amendment were passed the industries would have to bring in untrained men to work the overtime and be put to expense in training them in, while the present employees who got paid extra for overtime would be cut off for that income.

Mr. Bowser made it clear that he was speaking for himself alone, and not representing the Opposition; the members were free to take any stand they wanted.

Would Make Living Happier.

Samuel Guthrie, Socialist member for Newcastle, argued that the output of industrial concerns would not be decreased through a reduction in the hours of labor. He quoted from statements attributed to Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, in effect that better results were obtained, happier living conditions enjoyed, through the shorter hours.

Mr. Guthrie wants the workers to have more time to themselves for enjoyment and study. At present, he claimed, it was only aimed by the employers to give the men enough to keep them fit to return to work day after day.

Fears Are Only Phantom.

Tom Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, said a man should not be permitted to work more than eight hours a day. British Columbia had an eight-hour law in connection with the mining industry, he explained before the other Provinces, Oregon and Washington had it. So why should this Province hesitate to lead the way with a general eight-hour law? he asked.

He said the employers were seeing a phantom, a ghost or a vision. An eight-hour law would give them less trouble in getting help. A few years ago, he said, it was claimed that with the eight-hour mining law there would not be enough minerals taken out. To-day, he added, the average men could only get work for three days a week.

He concluded by saying that perhaps, after all, those who voted against the bill were doing as much or more for the emancipation of the workers as those who supported it; since the workers would "come into their own" all the sooner if they did not get relief.

Urges Scientific Basis.

J. B. Clearihue, Liberal member for Victoria, said he agreed with the principle of the bill, but he did not think it was applicable unless work in general was re-arranged on a sound scientific basis. But British Columbia had reached the place where this was practicable. He suggested that employer and employee get together through forming an industrial council to work out their own salvation. He did not believe in Government control.

George S. Hanes said it was high time the hours of labor were cut down. Now many men had to work ten hours or lose their jobs to Orientals, he charged. He said that the Liberal platform in 1916 contained an eight-hour plank, and after five years in office it was time for the Government to "come through."

R. H. Pooley, Conservative member for Esquimalt, said he voted for the act last year but would not do so this year. He was asked for his reasons and replied that British Columbia industry would be too seriously affected by the competition of other countries that would not have similar legislation.

"Happy as Clam."

"When we all get into the same boat, it will be time for this," he added, agreeing that the principle was all right but at present the idea was not practicable. He said he had a brother-in-law living in one of the pulp towns and working ten and a half hours daily. He was as happy as a clam on the beach at Port Alberni, said Mr. Pooley.

"Maybe he looks like one," was the retort of the Alberni member.

Jackson Backs Bill.

Mr. Pooley referred to a discussion before the public accounts committee yesterday morning, when the Deputy Minister of Industry showed that many industrial concerns were having a strenuous time to keep their heads above water. He did not think it fair to handicap them further.

M. B. Jackson, Liberal member for The Islands, said he would support the bill. He felt that labor intended to give the maximum of efficiency in return, and that if the act became operative in British Columbia it would be clearly demonstrated to be a wise measure.

Too Meagre to Dictate.

Premier Oliver then took the floor for a few minutes, but in that short time he went carefully into many phases of the labor question. He said his first earnings amounted to three cents for carrying coal. From that day to the present he had been pretty well "all the way," and he could not agree to the handicapping of industry in British Columbia through the passing of an eight-hour bill.

"We have listened to some beautiful theorizing this afternoon," the Premier commenced, with a derisive smile, "and I believe in much of what has been said; I believe in an even shorter day, but not at present. It is not feasible. Who are we, with our meagre population of a half million, to dictate to the rest of the industrial world?"

He claimed that with British Columbia's vast resources it was necessary to compete with the entire world and the task would be too great if labor conditions were more onerous.

Premier Congratulates Bowser.

Facts and not figures were facing the country, said the Government Leader, and he congratulated the Opposition Leader upon his remarks on the subject. Mr. Bowser had shown consistency, he said, in taking a stand against the bill at this time.

Premier Oliver said it would be all very well to cut down the hours of labor if the millenium were within sight. It wasn't though, he explained, so man had to do the best he could. He declared that it was ridiculous to say that certain workers could produce as much in 8 as in 10 hours. In many instances they were held down to the capacity of their machines, and, in fact, had little to do except watch their machines. And there were a lot of machines in the province, he added.

Not For Farming.

The Premier referred to remarks of certain speakers who contended that the proposed measure would not apply to agriculture. This idea was a fallacy, he said, since he had paid to find out that it would. Within sight of the City of Vancouver, he explained, were beautiful agricultural lands, where crops had spoiled because farmers could not get help. Men wanted to have the shorter hours of the city, with the city's amusements and other allurements. But Hindus were digging potatoes in the Delta and making four and five dollars daily.

"What is the matter with people?" he asked. "I have reached the time of life where I am not afraid to tell the truth. There are not twenty farms in British Columbia that can be operated on an eight-hour basis successfully. And still men won't work. They seem to think there is something degrading about agricultural pursuits."

Mr. Jackson asked if it wasn't largely ignorance that caused this idea to prevail.

"Yes, that is right," returned the Premier, "but I want to say here and now that I know something of labor. I have travelled all the way, but there is nothing menial or degrading in any honest toil." (applause.)

Out for Better Hours.

Thomas Menzies Independent member for Comox, said he would support the bill. He had two pulp mills in his riding and anyone conversant with conditions there would want to see the hours of labor cut as low as possible, he said.

Mr. Menzies said one of the mills had cut off two of its four machines, and was considering increasing working hours from eight to ten. He said there was no reason to expect blue-ruin to descend upon the province if it took the initiative in establishing a general eight-hour law.

Kenneth Duncan, Independent member for Cowichan thought it best to not apply the principle to the agricultural industry.

Upon motion of Mr. Whiteside the debate was then adjourned until Monday afternoon.

There are twelve parishes in England bearing the name of Whitechurch, a fact which gave rise to the following conversation twist:—

"I believe you know Whitechurch," remarked a parishioner to the new vicar. "I was married there."

"Indeed," said the vicar. "At which church at which Whitechurch?"—Tit-Bits.

AT CEDAR HILL

W. A. Pritchard Holds Successful Meeting.

A fairly good audience greeted Mr. W. A. Pritchard at St. Luke's Hall, Cedar Hill, Wednesday night, and in spite of the cold temperature of the hall, the keenest interest was shown the meeting concluding at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Pritchard reviewed present world conditions, and pointed out the futility of expecting any change so long as the present system of wealth production and distribution obtained, pointing out that it was impossible to have changed conditions with an unchanged basic foundation.

Dealing with the Oriental question, in reply to a question from a member of the audience, Mr. Pritchard stated that no matter whether the Oriental was in Canada or in his own country, his product found its way to the world market, and his competition must be met. With the discovery of coal beds of immense thickness and magnitude, and the discovery, also of deposits of iron ore which, though of low grade, had been found in enormous quantities, American and British interests were finding keen competition in all markets, and the deportation of the Oriental, which had been suggested in some quarters, would be no solution of the problem. Further, the problem of unemployment was acute in Britain, which had no Asiatic problem.
